A new principal can be a shock to any school, but a new principal and an entirely new guidance and administrative program can be a real shock! However, after the first few weeks of, "Where's my counselor?" and "Why is that ridiculous 'The Price is Right' sign still up?" Everyone began to adjust. Now that's a change!

When students leave the school it's usually with a great deal of enthusiasm.

Chris Hed, Pat Duncan, Kenny Saupe, Amy Lyons, Chip Keating and Monica Purvance let their spirit show.

Richard Walthall actively participates in the Homecoming Parade.

Change of Pace

Alas, no more rowdy, cheering, Thursday night JV football games! The reason? No more JV football team. Instead we have 55 guys playing varsity. That's a change!

The enforcement of the recommended county grading scale, which has been in existence for the past ten years, brought moans and groans from the majority of the faculty and student body. The system was being enforced in order to equalize the value of grades in different schools. Many students felt that because of the use of this scale their grades would drop significantly, however, as teachers learned to compensate for this stringent scale the grades turned out pretty much the same as last year. Though it was a pain to get used to the 7 point scale was actually a change for the better.

"Hey, hasn't anyone every told you to mind your own business?" asks Mark MacDicken.

"An 86 is a C?"

Jeff Parker, Andy Contos, and Jon Wells gulp down their lunch before the seniors steal their table.

Change of Pace

Herndon's freshman and sophomore classes' were noticeably smaller this year. The reason? The opening of the new South Lakes High School. Another change for the classes of 1981 and '82 was the minimum competency testing. If any of the freshman or sophomores wished to graduate from dear 'ole HHS they must prove that they have the basic English skills necessary to 'make it' in the adult world. It seemed as though every sophomore and freshman in the county was throwing fits over it, and ours were no different. However, since it got them out of class for a few days they somehow managed to survive. Another change!

It seems that every school has major changes which take place throughout the course of the year. Herndon seems to have had more than it's share. But it should come as no great surprise because as we continue to change, the one thing we all have in common, HERNDON HIGH SCHOOL, will continue to change with us.

Homecoming

This year's homecoming festivities were as spectacular and spirit-filled as those of any homecoming that can be remembered. All the way from spirit week through the Homecoming Dance, there was a sense of excitement in everyone, young and old alike.

Spirit week began, as always, with the freshmen. Of course, only a few dressed down in costumes for fear of upper-classmen realizing that they were new-comers to the school. In which case they would be subjected to the usual "bipping" or, as our principal Murriel Price put it- "hazing." The rest of the week was much better though. There were guys dressed as girls, and girls dressed as guys. Remember the diaper twins, Hubley and Hall? How about Chris Alston and his rendition of Richard Nixon. His choice of characters was not exactly popular, but as long as he wears something to cover his face, who cares? There were many other enthusiastic students, but one unforgettable group, the "killer bees," left a lasting impression on students as well as the teachers. This all goes to show that no matter what happens to our football team, we'll always back them 100%. If you don't believe me, just ask Bioman Stallings.

Ending the rowdy week of hilarious costumes and crazy antics, was the long-awaited-for powder puff football game. As usual, the Junior-Senior team won, but not as easily as one might suspect. With emerging freshman star, Beverly "Flash" Wiggins, the Freshmen-Sophomore team put up a commendable fight. Behind senior quarterback Lisa Florman, the Junior-Senior team turned back their younger, but very stubborn classmates for a 19-13 win. Then, as the last whistle of the game was blown, everyone gathered around the large pile of wood, and warmed their tootsies in the traditional bonfire.

"We massacred Edison." jubilantly screamed Mark Brown, Jeff Pingley, and Brian Hall, as well as the entire football team.

Homecoming

Finally, Homecoming Day arrived, and proved to be an exciting day for everyone involved. The annual Homecoming parade, with this year's theme of Yesterday, Today, and Tomorrow, kicked off the day with floats, music, pretty girls, and lots of trash for the cleaners to pick up the next day. As usual, it was a beautiful fall day, but also very windy, which affected many entries in the parade. Two entries not so affected were the Herndon Junior 4-H Esquestrian Team, which won the Mayor's Trophy, and the Senior class float, which took the Jaycees' President's trophy. The Junior class faired well, but as for the other two class floats, all we can say is that they tried hard and gave it their best shot.

The Freshmen class had many problems in getting a float together. Their first problem was getting organized. Their class elections were only a week and a half before Homecoming, which left them little time to prepare for the building of a float. Another main problem was money, the previous Freshmen class left the treasury bare. So our present freshmen borrowed $100 from the SGA, bought streamers, made signs, borrowed a pickup, and wound up with a presentable entry for the parade.

The sophomores may not have received any trophies for their float, but they sure deserved one for their enthusiasm. Joey Kneply, dressed as a hornet, sat on top of what appeared to be a square football. The football was surrounded by many red, white, and black balloons that were blown up the previous night by a few dedicated sophomores. The float may not have been perfect, but the sophomores were happy, and so were the spectators watching the parade.

For the Juniors, Homecoming Day was enthusiastic, but also very frantic. The juniors worked feverishly to the last hour preparing and finishing their float. Finally, the previous four weeks of hard work seemed to pay off. Between building the frame, and playing football; stuffing the float with napkins, and playing football; blowing up balloons, and playing football, Linda Bowman, the class president, had all she could handle. Between her temper and Eddie Fichtel's football, not much work was done. But as the big day came nearer and nearer, seriousness took over and the float began to shape up. As the big day finally arrived, everything was going as smooth as could be. Marc Slack put it best by saying, "Let's get the h--- out of here (his house) and win us a first in the parade." But upon arrival in Herndon, disaster struck the juniors. All of the helium balloons escaped, many napkins came off, the banners and decorations tore and blew away, and everybody became very upset (except the seniors). But through sheer effort and determination, they salvaged what they could, put the float back together, and won first place among the school entries. Now that's teamwork!

The senior class was once again being innovative while constructing their float of a giant hornet. Rumor has it, remember these are just rumors, that the appropriation of some of the building materials necessary for the construction of the float may have been questionable. However, who argues with success? In addition to winning first place in the parade the seniors seemed to have one of the most solidly constructed floats. While the juniors float was being battered by the wind the mighty class of '79's hornet stood strong.

Homecoming

After the chills, thrills, and shills of the parade, came what most people were looking forward to, the Homecoming football game, which was probably the most exciting game that the Hornets have played this year. This seesaw, "you take the football and score, I'll take the football and score" game, changed leads four times, as the Fightin' Hornets pulled off their first victory of the season 20-15 over a dejected Edison. Herndon took the lead early, as Mark Brown scored for the Hornets in the first quarter. Herndon threatened again, as they carried the ball to the Edison five, but could not punch over a score and had to turn over the ball. On the next play, an Edison running-back took the ball 95 yards to tie the game. Herndon rambled back and scored the final TD of the half as the Hornets regained the lead. The third quarter became very boring, but the game picked up as the fourth quarter opened. Edison, after a long drive, scored six points and succeed in their two-point conversion taking the lead 15-14. As the tension mounted in the final minutes of the game, Herndon put together a drive into Edison territory. With the help of the Hornet fans' enthusiastic support and cheering, they steered the ball into the end-zone and scored the winning touchdown. Mark Brown's excellent day with the ball provided him with 164 yards and three touchdowns which moved him into second place among the leading scorers in No. Virginia.

With this win, Herndon moved out of the Great Falls district cellar and into the win column.

The halftime festivities were as enjoyable as the game. Our band exploded with every Herndon score and gave us the usual excellent halftime show. The Homecoming princesses, which were selected in a school-wide vote were: Freshmen- Staci Baker and Kelli Barrett; Sophomores- Wemda Harbour, Natalie Kilgore, and Beth Poland; Juniors- Sue Moye, Linda Bowman, Sara Howarth, and Debbie Downer; and Seniors- Cindy Hall, Erin Morrissey, Barbara Schnore, Lisa Altmar, and Cathy Sadler. The crowning of the Homecoming queen, Barbara Schnore, highlighted the halftime festivities.

With the weeklong schedule of activities, along with the parade and the game, most people were just too tired to go to the Homecoming Dance. But for those who did go, they enjoyed an unforgettable experience. As the band "Reminiscence" set the mood for the young couples in love, most guys reminisced into their girl's eyes and thought, "I wonder how much this is going to cost me." Thus ending what could have been considered a perfect-picture day, along with a picture perfect week.

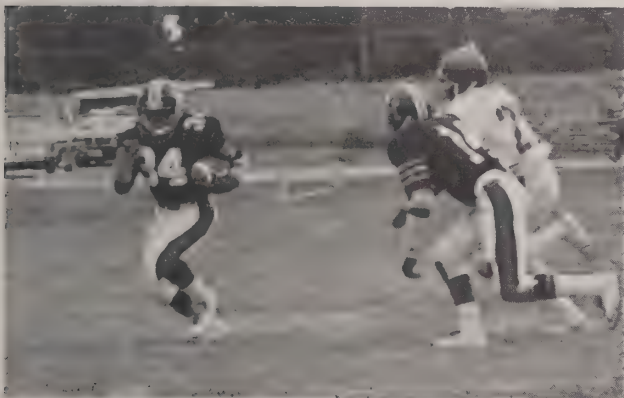

Back off, or I'll pull the pin!

Cheerleaders cheer, as the band plays, 'Bud'.

Kurt Dixon topples Edison defense as he rushes the ball for a sizeable gain.

Mark Brown, outracing two Edison defenders, scampers around the end and . . .

. . . seeing daylight ahead, shifts into gear and turns on his dazzling speed . . .

. . . rambles into the end zone to score six for Herndon and give them the lead.

Earl Rector and the rest of the team congratulate Mark Brown.

BASKETBALL HOMECOMING

Although the varsity team lost the Basketball Homecoming game to Jefferson High School, it was a very spirited contest against one of Northern Virginia's most outstanding teams. The Hornet's showed a lot of team work and enthusiasm even though they were unable to emerge victorious.

The results of the previous week's voting showed Staci Baker, Gwyn Johnson & Kelly Barrett to be the freshmen princesses. Sophomores; Beth Poland, Ruth Joyner, Natille Kilgor, Amy Haddix and juniors; Claire DeCou, Nancy Beach, Allison Horrocks, Donna Griffith and Sarah Howarth were also princesses. The seniors were Keri Baker, Dianne Hershey, Barbara Schnore, Erin Morrissey and last but not least the Basketball Homecoming Queen, Beth Bailey.

The SGA sponsored the dance Saturday night. Though the band "Lifeline" was considered to be extremely good, there was a low turnout.

The Miss Herndon High Pageant was filled with a lot of excitement, not only for the contestants but for the crowd. The fifteen girls participating in the show began the night by introducing themselves and giving some background information on their lives and interests. They also spoke of their future aspirations, after winning the Miss Herndon Pageant that is. Next the contestants changed into their evening gowns and modeled for the judges. After the finalists were announced the contestants entered the talent section of the program. Some embarrassing momments occured due to the antics of the stage crew, but all was forgiven after the pageant was over. In the end, tears of joy were shed by the winner, the new Miss Herndon High, Wenda Harbour. The runners up were Dee-Dee Caterton, Carla Donoho, Sarah Howarth, and Marcia Brien.

Miss Herndon was not the only pageant in which Herndon students particpated. Barbara Schnore, Janelle Ermalinski, Diana Hersey and Chris Braudaway were all in the local Jr. Miss Pageant.

SR. TALENT SHOW

A group of brave souls dared to come before a Herndon audience in sixteen very different acts. The conglomeration of all this creativity comprised the '79 Senior Talent Show. The emcees, Barbara Schnore and Jim Michelson did their share well and added an extra touch of interest to the night's affair. In fact, Barbara went far beyond the call of duty when she offered her version of "Free Bird" on the cello as a pacifier for those who made their desire for it to be played known. Some of the other talents displayed were two enjoyable solos by Mary Lou Durso and Marcia O'Brian and a flute and cello trio of Sharon Persinger, Kim Adams and Selina Kell.

A beautiful and graceful modern dance performance by Cathy Rich and Cathy Goldfrank was followed by the much less mellow comedy acts and bands. The comedy acts had one good thing in common Mark MacDicken. He first appeared in the "Marks Brothers" act with Mark Jewel. Later on in the evening, he brought the audience into an uproar again with the assistance of Denny Giraudo.

SR. TALENT SHOW

The main drawing attractions were not one but three bands. Both Glen Kuykendall and Mike Lance of last year's band "Clockwork" joined in the fun this year, but each in different acts. Glen Kuykendall, along with Lee Altman, Ray Jefferson and Ronnie Roth in "Neon" which opened the show, and Mike Lance in "Lifeline" the closing act, which incidentally didn't close the show until they sufficed the audience with two encores. The third band "Jam" did their entertaining in the middle of the show, bringing to a close the first half.

A special note should be made of the producer Mark MacDicken and co-producers David Saba and Erin Morrissey, who did such a commendable job putting together the '79 Senior Talent Show!

I always put a lot of feeling in my songs.

We're scared to death.

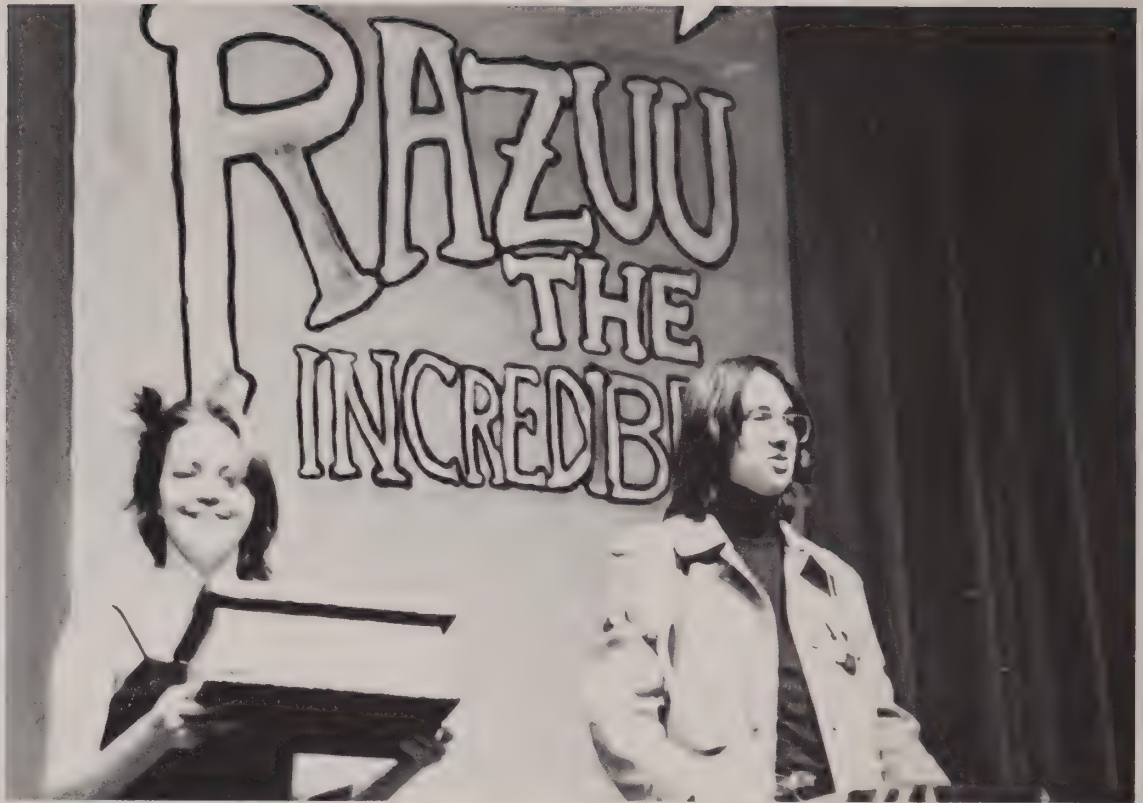

AN AMAZING SHOW

Herndon High School's fall productions took on a different face this year. As a change of pace from the ordinary 3-Act drama production, the Director of the Drama Department, Mrs. Ester Daniels, opted to put on 2 separate one-act plays. The distinct difference between this set of plays and all others was that they were written by Herndon students.

"Isn't That Amazing" was a play by Bob Kennedy, which centered around two magicians who are caught up in a magical battle for the prime time television spot left vacant by their now deceased master the "Mystifying Fienberg". The play starred Bob Kennedy and Mark MacDicken as the rival magicians.

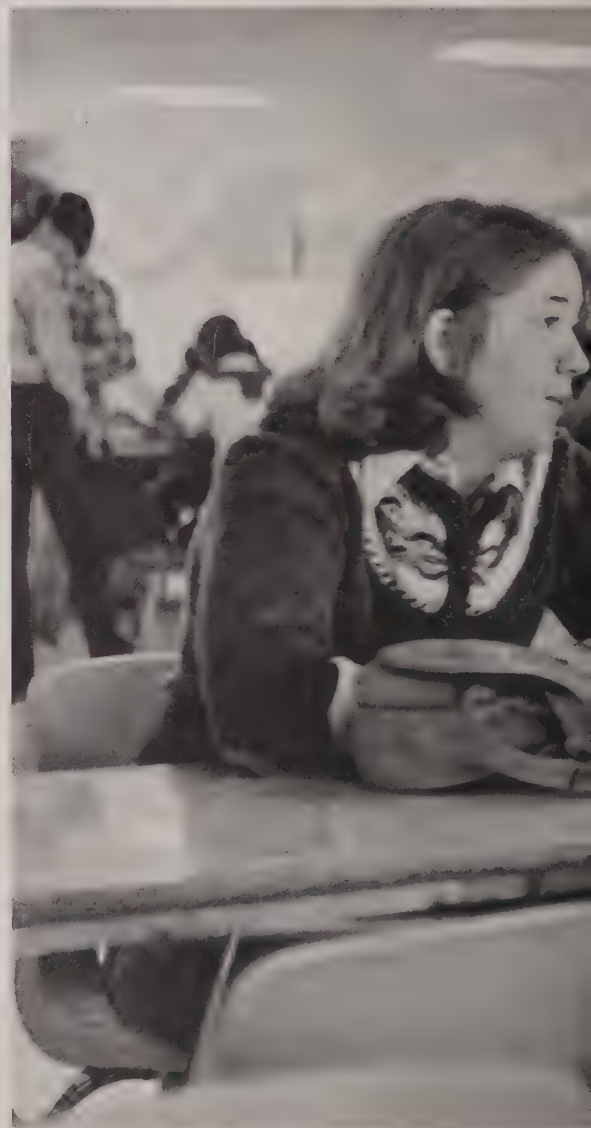

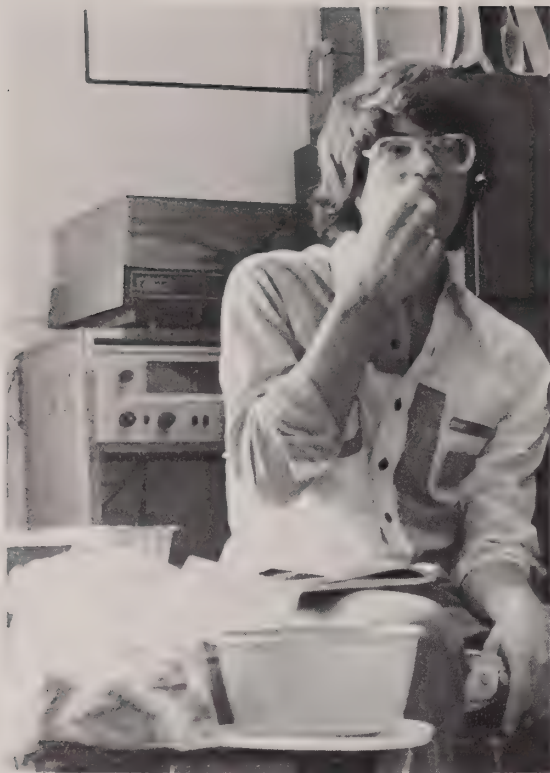

"The Show", the second play, written by Lee Altman and Jamie Welsh, is a slice of life story of a rock band called "Dragon Fly". The "rock opera" was an attempt to show its viewing audience that a band is not just all show.

Reception to "The Show" was so good that a shorter version of the original script was written by Mark Jewell to be taken to the spring One-Act Festival at Groveton High School.

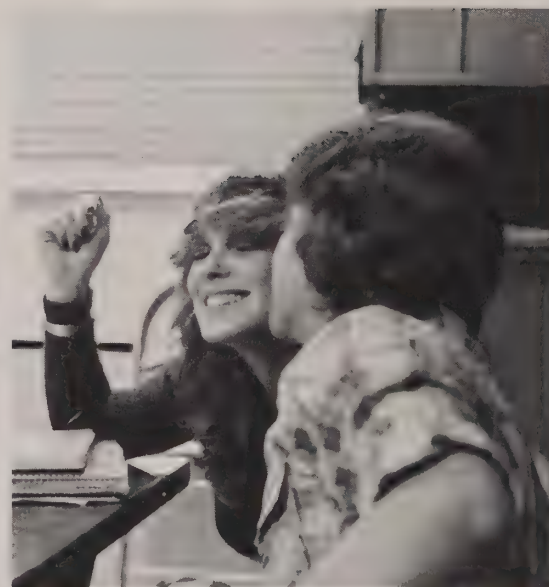

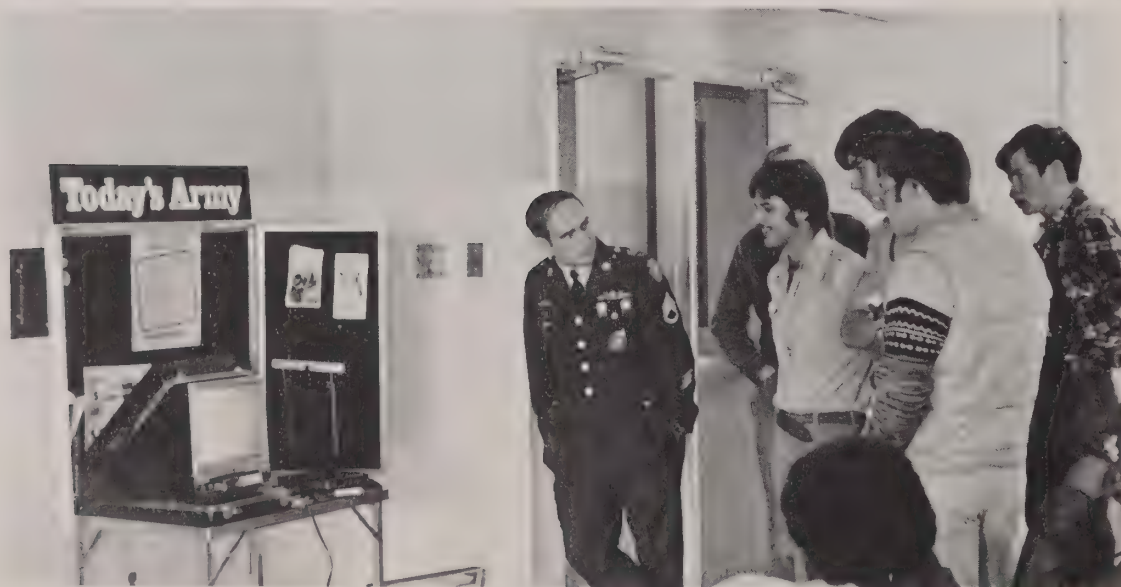

FOOD

What comes to your mind when you think of the word "cafeteria?" Crowds? Tables and chair? Do you think of homemade peanut butter and jelly sandwiches or sheperds pie? Perhaps you think of potato chips and fudge bars while others are thinking about carrots and celery sticks. Quite a few people think of McDonalds.

The cafeteria provides a place for people to meet and socialize as well as do that last minute cramming for fifth periods test. Sometimes, if you can push the garbage off the tables you can even find a place to eat.

HALLWAYS

BLIZZARD '79

On Monday, February 19, 1979, students and teachers awoke, knowing that they had an extra day of weekend in honor of George Washington's birthday. What they didn't know was that they were waking up to a phenomenon, an improbability . . . THE BLIZZARD OF '79. No, not the pre-Christmas dance planned by the Junior Class, but 18-23 inches of the real thing, something which hadn't occurred in over 50 years. The Metro area was paralyzed, stores lost big bucks because employees couldn't come to work and patrons couldn't get to their G.W. Birthday sales.

By the time things returned to normal, the 3 day weekend had turned into a 6 day vacation. Parents, students and teachers alike were under the spell of acute "cabin fever" and glad to return to normal lives of school and work. Now that's a change.

SOUTH LAKES . . .

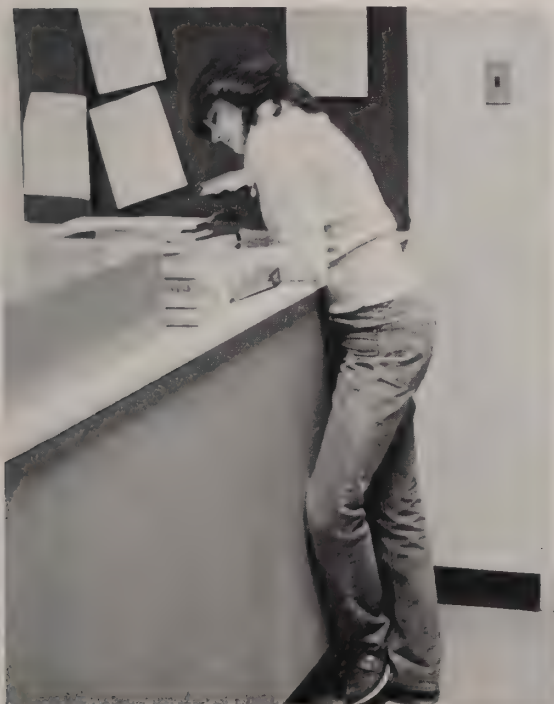

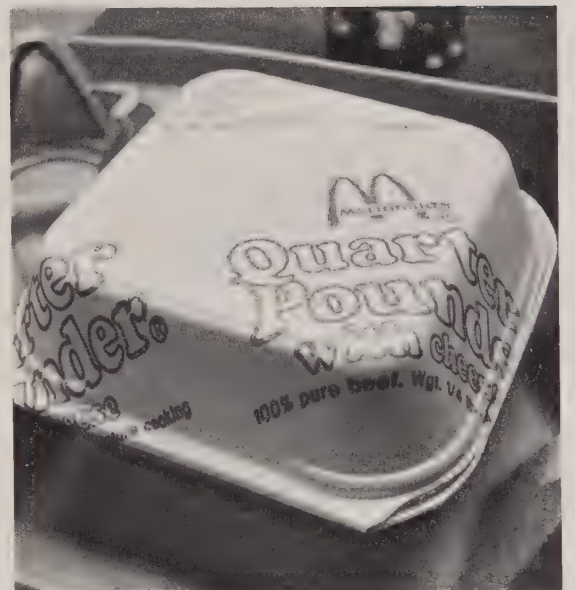

The hallways of Herndon High were considerably less crowded this year. The freshmen may not have thought so, infact they probably thought that they were considerably less crowded then the intermediate school, but the upperclassmen certainly noticed the difference. The reason for this was South Lakes, Reston's new high school. The opening of South Lakes helped to diminish the over crowding at Herndon and Oakton.

AND HERNDON.

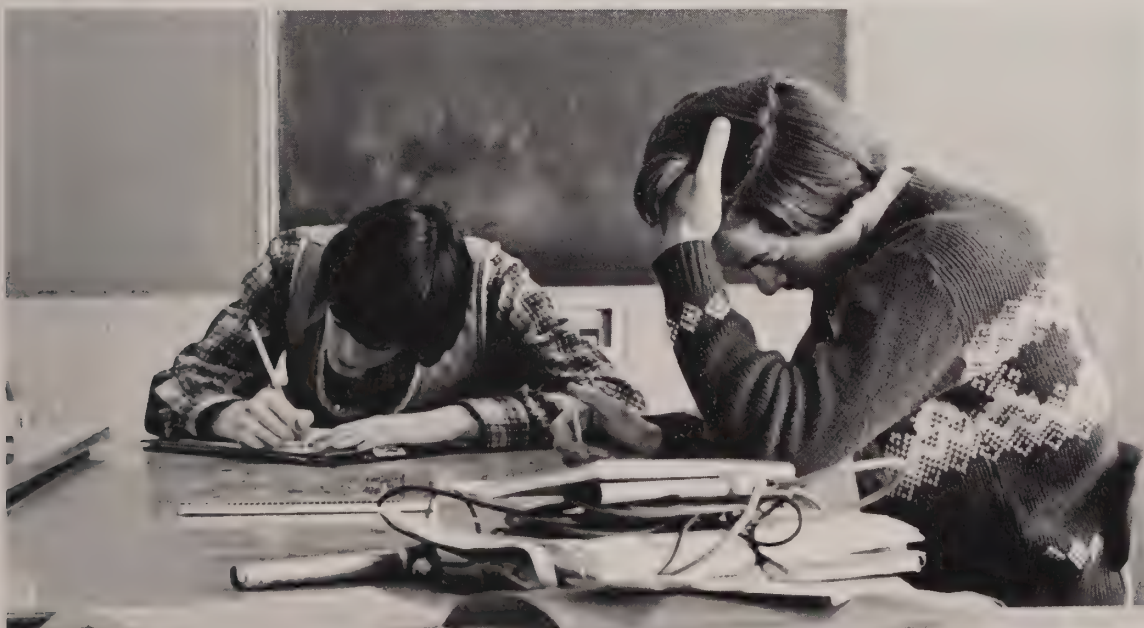

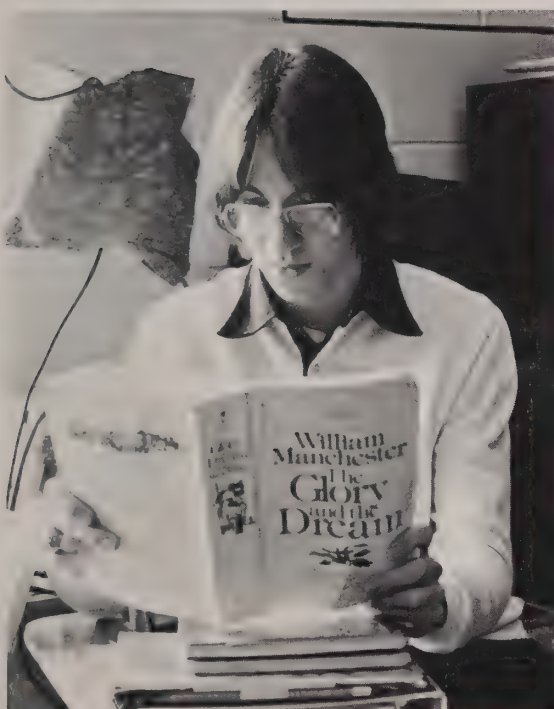

A.L.P. . . . ALP. . . . A.L.P.

The following essay was written by a senior as part of her application to college. We, the Staff feel it really sums up the fundamentals of ALP.

Before my junior year, Herndon High School presented no challenge for me. There were no advanced classes for underclassmen, and I was sick of learning every year the difference between to, too and two. Then the Alternative Learning Program completely changed my view of high school. ALP offered a closeness hard to find in a large school, as well as a challenging academic program.

ALP English students spend a semester strengthening writing skills and literary background before dividing into elective courses. My favorite was a study of The Stranger, Catcher in the Rye and Demien. We investigated each book of several philosophies, mainly existentialism. The social studies classes work in the same way. In addition to classwork we do several position papers. Last year I studied the causes of McCarthyism and researched the role of women in Arthurian legend from Malory to the present.

ALP classes meet on Mon., Wed., and Fri. On Tues. we are supposed to read, do research or otherwise prepare for class. Of course, we spend much of this time talking or playing chess (an ALP passion). We make up for this, however, by working extra hours at home. On Thurs. we have PAL meetings, at which a small group discusses a prearranged topic, plans an ALP event or talks about anything that comes to mind.

As well as conducting meetings the PAL teacher reads his/her students logs, in which we write just about anything. It is symbolic of ALP that, although people always leave their logs lying around, no student ever reads another's log without first asking.

ALP is not limited to school, it becomes a way of life. Last year there were several ALP parties, an ALP Homecoming, and ALP ski trip and an ALP Chess Club. This year we've already held our semi-annual ALP picnic. The Communists, encouraged by such cheers as, "Workers of the world united. Come on Commies fight! Fight! FIGHT!" demolished the Capitalists in the traditional ALP kickball game.

To casual observers, it appears as if we get good grades without doing much work. Every year many juniors having heard from cynical outsiders that ALP stands for "All Lunch Periods" or "Alternative to Learning Program" enthusiastically join ALP. If they are not frightened right away by the lists of books to read and papers to write, they panic when they receive the results of their first English essay or government test. Only the dedicated and self-motivated remain, it is these the people of ALP who make it possible for an innovative, intensely challenging program to exist in a traditional school.

OUT OF THIS WORLD

Every other Thursday, a group of students sharing an interest in astronomy and other scientific fields meets in the planetarium. They comprise the Astronomy-Science Club which is dedicated to the observation of scientific phenomena. Along with their sponsor, Mr. Chandler, the club uses the planetarium and other scientific equipment around the school to explore astronomy and science. They also participate in observation sessions in and around the community. Cosmic isn't it?

The building of a Steen-Skybolt two-seater, bi-plane was the major activity of the Aviation Club. The plane will be completed in approximately 3 years and will be sold for between $15-17,000. The club is a supporting organization of the Aviation classes and is an extension of their work. They have raised money by aiding Mr. Graley in selling fruit, Mr. Rexroad in selling popcorn and through the paper drive. Mr. Blair, the sponsor has been trying to find corporate backing for the airplane project. He also plans to see the project through its completion.

Herndon's American Field Service Club has been active in meeting people and making friends. In February, a group of fourteen foreign exchange students and host brothers and sisters came to Herndon for an International Weekend. The students stayed with the families of Herndon students for 3 days and 2 nights, attending classes one day and several parties and activities in their honor. The weekend was such a success that an unofficial reunion was held a month later.

The AFS club held other activities during the year, including a short term exchange, an International Dinner and other fund raising activities. These events attracted new members to AFS and also stimulated interest in the AFS Foreign Exchange Program. Herndon hosted one AFS student this year, Luciano Gomes from Brazil. AFS also welcomed back three returnees to the United States; Barbara Schnore, who spent the summer in Brazil; Daphne Manalatos, a summer student to Japan and Mary Ellen Peebles, who returned in January from a full year in South Africa. Herndon is also sending two students abroad this summer, Josh Nichols and Cheri Hoffman. Overall AFS has had an eventful and successful year.

Communists hold better bloc parties!

IRC Officers: Tammy Olsen, Bryan Barr.

No one word can adequately summarize the model United Nations conferences in which the International Relations Club participated. Whether it be at Fairfax High School or Harvard, students put a lot of themselves into these conferences.

A great deal of preparation is expected and this work is reflected in the simulated U.N. sessions. The students, as delegates, caucus, work with, and maintain close contact with other bloc members to avert WWII and other world crises. Writing resolutions, making speeches, proposing amendments and compromising on behalf of their country (even if it's communist) are only a part of the frustrations and fun.

One can always find time to explore the hosting college and dorms. And when the day is over, there is never a lack of things to do around the hotel with the other 1200 delegates.

The first three M.U.N.s on the agenda were Bryn-Marr and Haverford, Harvard and Fairfax High. Herndon students represented the countries of Canada, Nigeria, France, and Columbia. In March, a U.S.S.R. delegation of over 20 I.R.C. members ventured up to National High School's M.U.N. in N.Y. with the slogan "Communist hold better bloc parties" on their minds.

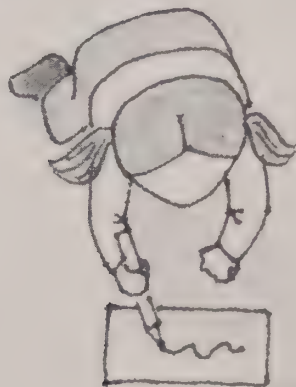

Model United Nations are genuinely educational. Undoubtedly, all club members find the conferences enjoyable, rewarding, and memorable experiences.

ART GUILD

The Herndon Centennial is being greatly enriched by the Art Guild. Under the guidance of Mrs. Fuqua, Cha son Chappell is painting a portrait of the present mayor of Herndon, Mr. Russ and Stephanie Kaplan, one, of the first mayors of Herndon, Mr. Bready. These portraits, along with a figure of Commander Herndon done by Brad Morris, Cathy Neil, Chris Creekmore and Ron Shake will be given to the Town of Herndon.

Such out-of the ordinary projects are not unusual for Art Guild members. The group is relaxed and informal, aided by the stereo system Mrs. Fuqua provided. Members are students who have shown exceptional interest and ability in art. They have also done such projects as clay pouring and batiks.

The Computer Club is a loosely defined group of computer buffs who meet (whenever possible) to work on programs, play games, brainstorm ideas and generally have fun computing. They meet during lunch and after school (and at every other opportunity) in teacher's workroom 4 — the computer room.

The club's members are known for their dedication (some call it obsession) to computing. Any one of them would gladly extol the fine points of their favorite programs. The group is quite varied; ranging from beginning CSI students just learning BASIC to the old timers (or 'hackers' as they are sometimes called) most of whom know several languages and have two years of experience.

MEETING OF THE MINDS

The 1978-79 "It's Academic Team" again made a good showing. Teamates John Ficke, SuSu Nanda and Captain Pam Kiely taped their competition in September. Although losing to Northwestern, they managed to gain ten out of ten in one round, the only team out of 81 to do so.

"It's Academic" tryouts are held every spring, with the team hopefuls being quizzed on everything from A to Z. After the three team members and three alternates are chosen, the team practices three days a week. Any student is welcome to try out for the "It's Academic" team.

TRIPPING THE LIGHT FANTASTIC!

The Dance Club, newly formed this year is a group of hard working dancers interested in the many aspects of the art. The club was originated by students in order to gain performing experience and further develop their dance techniques. With the help of Cris Grogis, a performing troupe was created through the club. Members performed in the Homecoming Parade, the Miss Herndon High Pageant and the Talent Show.

THE SMELL OF GREASE PAINT

Stage Crew: David Kercher, Eddie Fichte, Brian Gilley, Curt Blankenship, Chris Bainhart

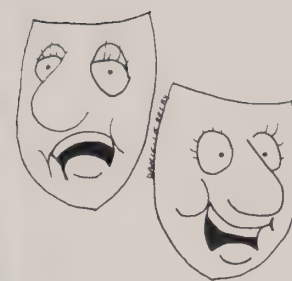

Stage crew is probably the most efficiently working group of students in the school. Working with the lighting and sound systems during assemblies, pep rallies, and school plays, they usually wind up with an abundance of responsibilities. Backstage is a lighting switchboard that is so complicated, that Curt Blankenship is about the only one who can figure it out. During the fall productions, the stage crew worked feverishly with the lighting equipment to create an atmosphere which accented two plays. The stage crew also provides any event on the stage with as much help as possible to guarantee that it continues to run smoothly.

The stage crew also helps to keep the production running in case of disasters on or off the stage.

Thespian officers: Mark MacDicken, Barbara Schnore, Alecia Lenz

For the dramatically inclined student, the Drama Club and Thespians (a drama honor society) provide an outlet for people with an interest in the theatre. This year, the Drama Club/Thespians put on a pair of student written one-act plays, a first at HHS. They also ran a haunted house on Halloween for the Reston Children's Center, participated in a drama workshop at the Kennedy Center and they attended the Fairfax County One-Act Festival. Most recently, they presented a production of "Okla-homa!" as the spring musical.

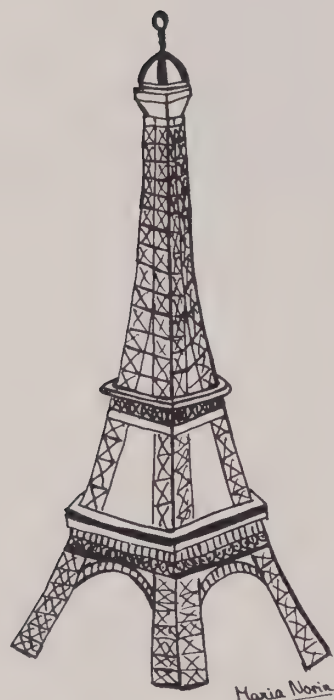

The Drama Club is comprised of all students actively interested in drama. Members who have participated in enough drama activities are inducted into the Thespians.

French

Sharing a genuine enthusiasm, the members of the French Club helped to broaden the French cultural horizons among all students. They participated in a spring Festival and sold stockings at Christmastime. Membership was based upon enrollment in a French class.

For the superior French students, not only were they able to be in French Club, but they were also inducted into the French Honor Society, after meeting various requirements.

French Honor Soc: Diane Goddard, Janine Loosley, Lindsay McKinley, Cindy Hall.

EYES TO THE FUTURE

F.H.A.

A mini retreat in the fall, a special program for the elderly at Fellowship House in Reston and fundraising projects to buy a microwave oven for the Home Ec department, were just a few of the events on the Future Homemakers of America's agenda. The FHA considers itself to have a dual purpose: to aid in the overall development of the involved students and provide their services to the school and Home Ec department.

F.B.L.A.

"... to provide, as an integral part of the instructional program, additional opportunities for secondary students (grades 7-12) in business and office education to develop vocational and career supportive competencies and to promote civic and personal responsibility."

is what is stated in the F.B.L.A. Charter as their purpose. But to the Future Business Leaders of America themselves the organization is much more than that. This year they increased their membership to 64. Members participated in academic competitions here at Herndon and on the Regional and State levels. They took in-state and out-of-state field trips, held panel discussions and invited guest speakers. The Herndon chapter of this national organization proved to be one of the most active clubs in the school. The club was sponsored by Mrs. Bowie and co-sponsored by all the business teachers.

F.F.A.

In many of the more rural areas of the country, the Future Farmers of America is a home-farm type activity. However, here at Herndon the club is geared mainly as an extra-curricular extension of the renowned Horticulture department. Herndon has consistently placed first in the state competitions for the past five years. Members compete in such categories as general knowledge, landscaping, and farming. Though it is not commonly known, Herndon is considered to have the most skilled and knowledgeable chapter of the FFA in the county.

GERMAN

German Club: Front Kneeling: Paul Doherty; Middle Row: Karen Rader, Karen Shipe, Carmel Billigar Back: Elaine Ailworth, Linda Shull, Lauren Volgeneau, Missy Cornwell, Rhonda Villager

The German Honor Society and German Club both try to promote interest in the German Language, culture and tradition. The German Club is open to anyone, and speaking German is not required. Every year the club sponsors a German dinner to which members bring authentic German dishes.

The German Honor Society recognizes those students with consistently high grades in their study of German. To be eligible, one must maintain an "A" average in the language for four semesters, as well as an overall "B" average. Due to the fact that their sponsor, Mrs. Young, was out of school having her baby girl, the society did not really become active until mid-March. (No picture available)

German Club Officers: Karen Rader, Karen Shipe

Cultural Events Club: Mark Dottore, Ann Usac, Leslie McCleare, Cheri Hoffman, Curry Belfield, Pat Wagner, Pat McGeehan.

CULTURAL EVENTS

It is stated in the Cultural Events Club's lengthy and wordy charter that the purpose of the organization is to:

"... provide a comprehensive and contemporary tool to aid interesting students in their constant uphill struggle to higher cultural enlightenment, to increased cultural appreciation, to explore strange new worlds, to seek out new life and new civilizations. . ."

Anyway, that's their story and they're sticking to it.

The C.E.C. (that stands for Cultural Events Club) was cloned one sunny afternoon during a 4th period Humanities class while its members were attempting to split the nucleus of a hydrogen atom. The C.E.C. is an outgrowth (that's kinda like a wart) of the ALP program. It was formed in order to obtain the school's authorization to sell a mysterious and as it turned out unprofitable substance known only as GORP. The content and ingredients cannot be disclosed for fear that some Herndon students might try to manufacture the substance on their own. The money was used to fly down to sunny Acapulco but it rained so they went to Sterling instead. (Now that's culture.)

The President was Cheri Hoffman, but she resigned, which says something, doesn't it? The surviving "officers" are: Pat McGeehan-Vice President (he slept his way to the top), Secretary-Pat Wagner (because he had the best looking legs in the class) and Mascot-Marc Dottore (we'll leave it at that). The sponsor, whom all members look up to as their second father, (they look up to him as their second mother too, but that's another story.) is none other than that irresistible hunk Curry Belfield (and his legs aren't half bad either!)

Scholarship, citizenship, leadership, service, and character are the qualities which the many members of the National Senior and Junior Honor Societies must have.

The members of these Honorary organizations have participated in a variety of activities ranging from the selling of M & M's to the tutoring of students in various subject matters. Over all, the members have upheld the fine qualities which are expected from them.

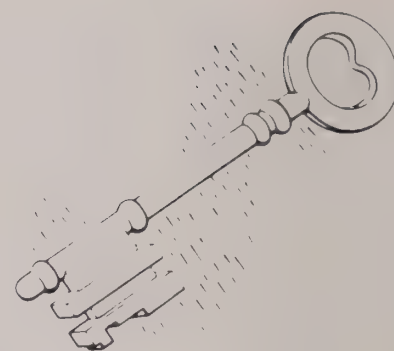

Key Club

Some people say that only jocks join the Key Club, but it's much more than just jocks. Anyone can join and in fact just about anyone did. Being in its third year of existence the Key Club has grown from a minor organization of about a dozen members to a major one of over fifty members. President John Weigand had more than he could handle at the meetings, so he had the club divided into smaller groups with members from the previous year acting as group leaders. In this way the club accomplished much more.

In the fall before induction night, each of the 80 applicants filled out a form indicating their desire to join the club. Members from the previous year met to decide on the new members. By the time they were done, they had turned approximately half of the applicants down. Then they planned the induction ceremonies. Induction night was for the club as well as the new members, for the Herndon Key Club was being inducted into the International Key Club Organization.

Throughout the year, the Key Club raised money by cleaning up the football field after each game and also cleaning up other sections of the school. They also raised money by selling oranges. The members volunteered their help on back-to-school and college nights and organized a party for underprivileged kids at an elementary school. Whenever their service was needed they always volunteered to help.

One of the most well-known service organizations is totally comprised of females—the Keyettes. Their main aspiration is to help others; they feel they are able to do this by serving their school and their community in various ways. One of their most successful activities this year was the selling of carnations.

Keyette Club Officials: Miss Rogers, Sponsor, Cindy Simmons, Ruth Petr, Alison Thompson, Joyce Gasparovic, Kris Rose.

Latin Honor Society: Kim Adams, Sharon Appleton, Lori Bastian, Richard Burns, Peter Carrico, Joy Clemenz, Dawna DuBay, George Fleming, Deirdre Gerken, Annette Hyltoft, Terry Inge, Cliff Joslyn, Tom Keifer, Selina Kell, Pam Kiely, Bill Knebel, Jon Koval, Robert Light, Ann Manos, Catherine McCray, Susu Nanda, Josh Nichols, Peter Roe, Richard Snyder, Cynthia Steel, Micki Steinbauer, Todd Thomson, Jim Traylor, Joseph Wallace, Ninoshka Welch.

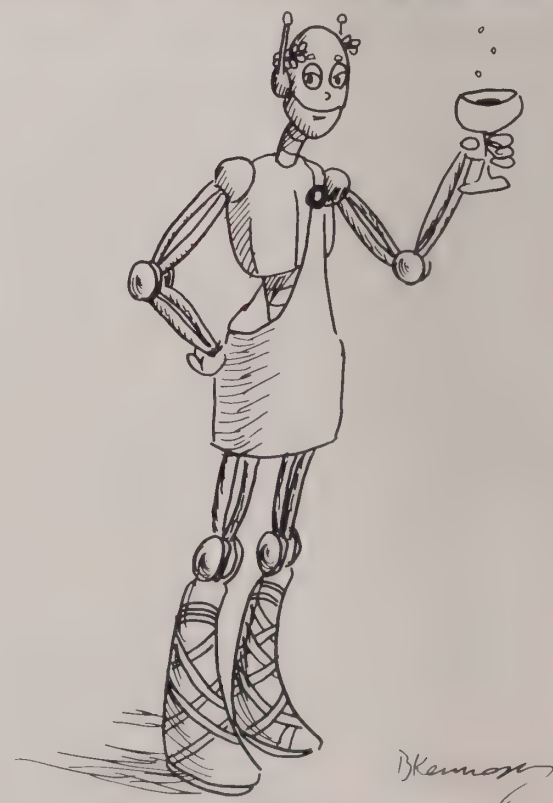

Latin at Herndon is far from being a dead language. Members of the Latin Club and Honor Society become involved in many diverse activities. They participate in frequent Latin Bowls, which are similar to "It's Academic." They attend Saturnalias, or Roman banquets, complete with togas. Then there are the national and state conventions, where they take part in academic, artistic and athletic contests.

Latin Honor Society members are students who have been in Latin for at least three years (there are some special exceptions made for seniors), who have an "A" average in the language. They must also maintain a high average in their other subjects. The annual trip to New York is the highlight of the year, when the group visits the Metropolitan Museum and other sights.

Much of the interest in these two organizations can be attributed to their exuberant sponsor, Mrs. Christine Sleeper. Her interest and devotion to this language have inspired many students to become devout members of these organizations.

Spanish

Spanish Club: Lynette Owings, Karen Anderson, Karen Rhodes, Suzi Whang.

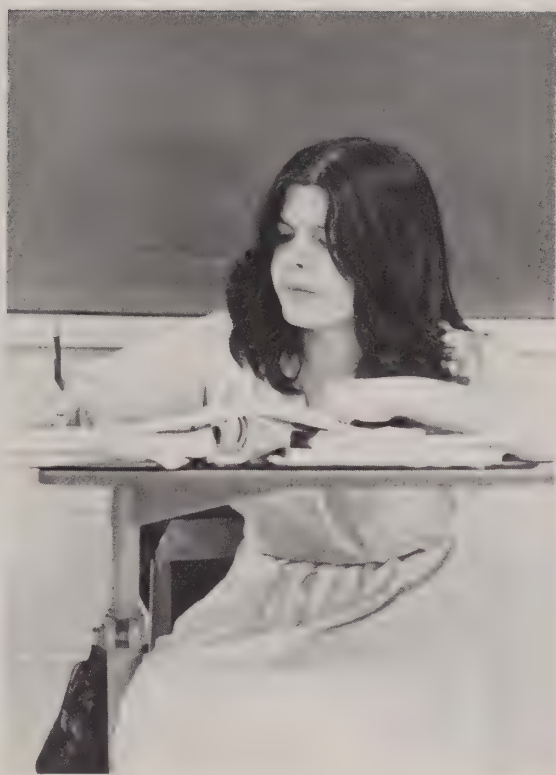

The goals which the Spanish Club had this year were many, unfortunately few were accomplished, due to poor publicity and planning. There are no attendance rules nor requirements needed to be met in order to become a member. Although few activities were done, both the Spanish Club and Spanish Honor Society tried to promote interest in the Spanish language and culture. Membership for Spanish Honor Society is based upon grades in the Spanish language and is by invitation only.

Spanish Honor Society: Karen Anderson, Karen Rhodes, Suzi Whang.

SGA Committee Chairman: Reid Adams, Tim Platt, Lisa Marshall, Alecia Lenz, Monique Moore, John Weigand, Anne Kamstra.

With Todd Thompson as President, Brad Short as First Vice President, and Anne Ishee as Second Vice President, the Student Government had a very successful year. They started planning their activities in August, and held their first fund raising activities on Labor Day weekend—to start the new year off right. They also held several prosperous dances in which they raised several hundred dollars for the Student Activity Fund. The government has various other standing committees which include: Human Relations, Activities, Curriculum, Publicity, Grievance, and Exterior and Interior Grounds Committees. An elected students from each home room, along with the individual class presidents, make up the House of Representatives; a major part of our school government.

Ombudsmen Officers: Monique Moore, John Weigand.

The "Ombudsmen" are a group consisting of eighteen devoted members; otherwise known as the Grievance Committee. They are all well informed of school policy, and do their best to help students with school related complaints or questions.

They have, however, worked on redefining their purpose and goals this year, because they feel that not enough students are asking for their assistance.

Monique Moore is the chairperson of this group and is very dedicated. Her co-chairpersons are John Weigand and Sharon Clarke. The Ombudsmen are a standing committee of the S.G.A. This was only their second year of operation.

the stinger is published every four weeks by Potomac Press, Leesburg, Virginia. We reserve the right to edit. Made in U.S.A.

The Stinger is many different things to different people. To writers, it is a deadline; to teachers, it is competition for their class's attention (almost everything is); to editors, it is layouts, paste ups, arguments and Pizza Hut; to the student body, it is the school newspaper. Each month brings more arguments, more work and finally between 8 and 12 pages of news, features, sports and editorials.

The Stinger deals with all aspects of a newspaper including writing, photographs, art work, production, finance and circulation, all of which is done by students. Although the stories are primarily school related, there are many occasions where students get the chance to be creative. These are mainly the two traditional special issues, the April Fool's issue and the Senior Special.

In past years, the Stinger has maintained high standards of journalism, received awards from Quill and Scroll, Southern Press Association and VHSL, to name a few. The real satisfaction, however, is derived from putting out a paper which reflects and reports student's actions and opinions.

"Literature is my Utopia."
—Helen Keller—

The people working on the Scribe like literature too, as well as art. The Scribe is Herndon's literary-art magazine, which is published each spring.

All works included in the magazine are by students and the accepted pieces are chosen by Scribe staff members. The staff is comprised of students from all grade levels.

Works are generally submitted and reviewed through the month of February. Next, the selected writings and illustrations are arranged, rearranged and then sent off for printing.

The Scribe consistently fares well in competitions with other school magazines. The 1978 edition earned Herndon a trophy in a Northern Virginia High School contest.

But, more important than the awards is the sense of satisfaction which Scribe contributors and staff-members always seem to feel after putting together a collection of such outstanding student expression.

Scribe Officers: Barbara DiPietro, Barbara Schnore, Mrs. Nyrop

Drill Team

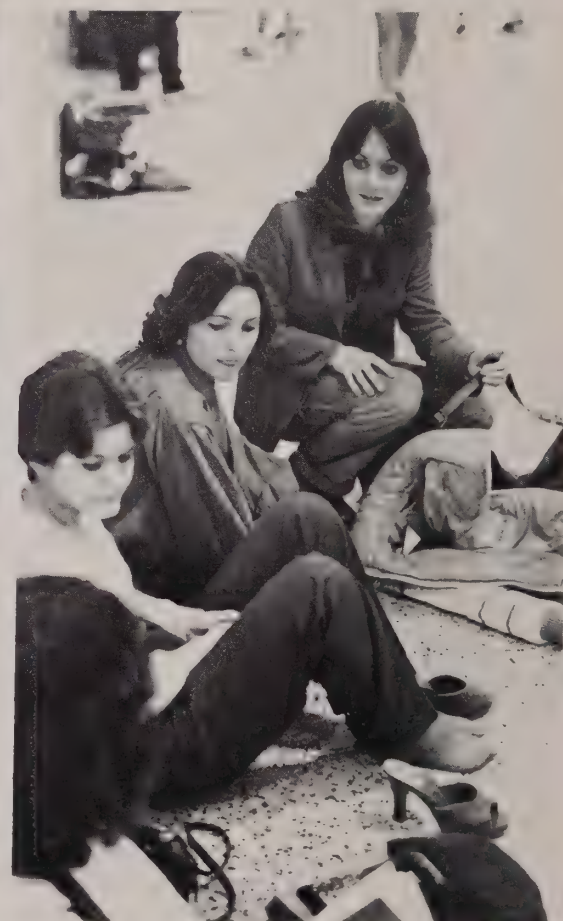

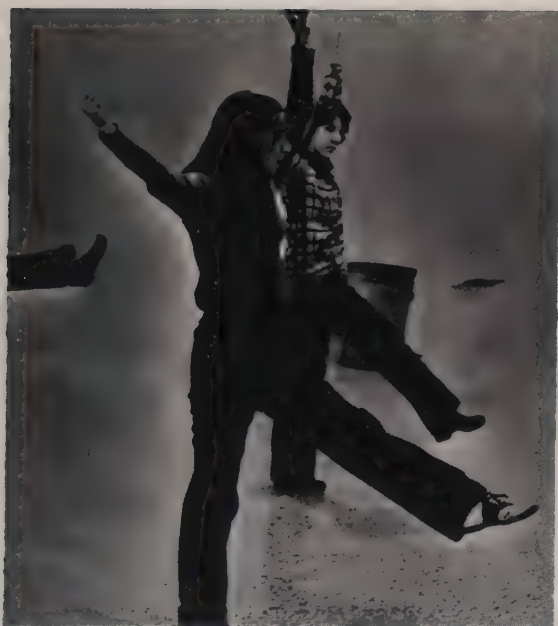

Attending Summer Drill Team Camp, practicing twice a week from September to February and pre-game rehearsals are all part of the rigorous schedule Drill Team members must endure. The team consists of 30 spirited girls who provide halftime entertainment at football and basketball games as well as marching with the band.

Each spring before tryouts the team holds a 2 week clinic, about 150 girls attend, only 30 are chosen. Those 30 girls must usually sacrifice jobs and other activities for Drill Team but they all seem to feel it's worth it.

MAJORETTES

A lot of experience and hard work goes into the majorettes' halftime shows. The five girls (six during football season), including co-captains Erin Morrissey and Chris Bear, each have between seven and ten years of "twirling" experience. They all used to belong to the same "twirling" corps, too. Practice takes place every day in the gym foyer or auditorium during sixth period.

The majorettes' hard work really has paid off. Besides having won first place in a homecoming parade competition, their excellent shows always reflect the quality of talent which goes into every performance.

Majorettes: Stephanie Wratchford, Erin Morrissey, Pam Valliere, Jeannie Wertz, Patty Irvin.

There is not only one National Honor Society. Aside from the Senior and Junior Honor Societies, there are foreign language honor societies, and even a National Music Honor Society. The Tri-M stands for the Modern Music Masters, which is a National Honor Society for high school students who are interested in band, chorus, or orchestra. It encourages excellence and awareness of musical heritage. Students must audition to be in this honor society, pass a test in music theory, and be recommended by their music teacher. They not only must maintain a high average in music, but also in their scholastic grades. The president of this distinguished group is Erika Sevcik; secretary, Christine Ingelbritsen; treasurer, Jenny Daniels; and historian, Beth Shaw.

WHERE HAVE THE COUNSELORS GONE?

"Hey Don! Where were you yesterday?"

"I was home sick—one of my annual post nasal drip attacks, but I have a note! My first period teacher is going to die of shock."

"No she won't. The rule has been changed, you don't bring your excuses to your teachers any more."

"What? Do you mean that for the first time in three years, I bring my note on time and I don't even get to impress my teachers by having it in before the end of the quarter?"

"Well, sort of . . . Now you show it to your sub-school principal, and he decides if you are excused or not. Then he gives you a pass to enter class and your teachers have to sign it."

"What is a sub-school?"

"You know, that's where your sub-school's principal, counselors and secretaries are located."

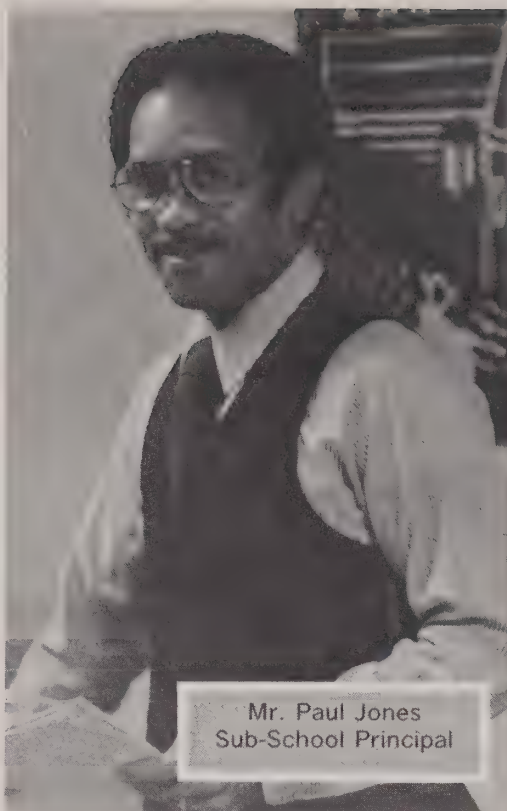

"Listen turkey, I don't know what you've been smoking but my counselor is in the office, and we don't have sub-schools! We have PST's!"

"Not any more! We have a "NEW" system. Our school has been divided into four sub-schools according to your name and grade level. It's a major breakthrough in the growth of Herndon High! Terrific! Sounds more like another chapter in "How to Confuse Students at the High School Level."

"Really, it's the best invention since 8 tracks, it's even better than Barbara Sue on a Saturday Night!"

"Now I'm sure that you've flipped! NOTHING is better than Barbara Sue on a Saturday Night!"

"Seriously though, this system has real potential, no more dehumanizing for us; we have: DA DA DA DA TA DA! . . . SUB-SCHOOLS!"

WHERE HAVE THE COUNSELORS GONE?

"Sub-schools, great, now you're going to tell me that we don't have the same counselors either, right?"

"Right!"

"What! Now this has really gone too far! I have spent three years, and who knows how many referrals and cut classes, getting to know my guidance counselor. This is the last straw!"

"Now just calm down! You mustn't stand in the way of progress, must you? This new sub-school system is just great! Now you won't have to do anything wrong to get to know your guidance counselors because everything is handled at your sub-school, (attendance, guidance, discipline). Now we don't have to go running in 50 different directions everytime we want to get something done!"

"I don't know, I always like running all over the school. It took more time to get less done. What a way to spend second period!"

"But don't you understand? While you're running around the school all the time you never get a chance to get to know your counselor, to do your work, or get to class!"

"Hey! I always managed to get to class for at least 5 minutes."

"This way your counselor won't know your older brothers and sisters and you won't have to listen to 'Oh, are you Kevin's little brother? You know you look just like him. What school is he attending. How's he doing? etc., etc. If they only have you, then you won't have to listen to all of that. Besides, what if your brother was a real degenerate slob? You wouldn't want your counselor to think that you were like that."

"Maybe, but my brother was a straight A, merit finalist, class president, super student. I wouldn't mind having my counselor forming that kind of an opinion about me. It could prove valuable in the future."

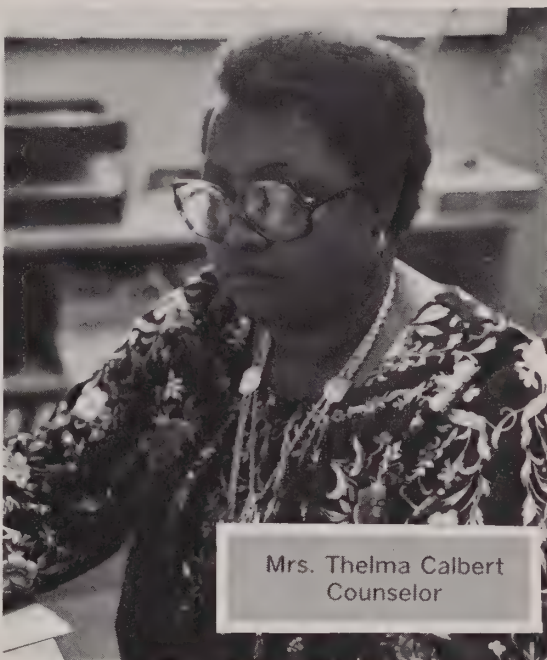

"But your brother didn't go to Herndon, so it's not going to help much is it?"

"Still, with everything in one place won't the secretaries be swamped with paper work. I mean everything is going to be extremely confusing for them, I really don't think it's fair to pile a tremendous work load on those poor people."

"Oh, such a kind heart, actually they don't have much more work than they did last year, it's just in a different form."

"I still don't like it. I mean I just can't handle all of these changes. I'm going to have to complain to Richardson about this. Her great Brain Storm sounds more like a tidal wave."

LIFE AFTER HIGH SCHOOL

In a back corner of the library there was something new this year, the College and Career Center. Formerly located in the Guidance Department, it has been enlarged and moved to the library to make it more accessible to the students, as well as to emphasize planning and the realities of life after high school. The basically volunteer staff, headed by Joan Houghton-Dixon, not only counsels students and their families on college, financial aid, and career planning, but brings in speakers and holds field trips for different career interests and disciplines. The center also deals with more immediate problems. They are developing community services throughout the guidance department, such as Crisis Services, foster home placement, and job placement (immediate and long-term). These services will not be solely school oriented since two local organizations, the Rotary Club of Herndon and the Business and Professional Women's Club of Herndon, are working with the center to develop programs for young men and women.

JOKE BOOK, WHO?

Inspiration is often found in unusual ways, in the case of Mrs. Jean O'Toole and her forth-coming book, the inspiration came in the form of a joke. The idea of writing a book developed from an inside joke between Mrs. O'Toole and her fellow teachers at a school in Florida, where she had taught previously; the joke was about writing a humorous novel describing the educational systems of our high schools, but Mrs. O'Toole took it seriously and the "joke book" is now becoming a reality.

This is not the first writing of Mrs. O'Toole. In 1977 she received an appreciated second place award in the Florida State Poetry Contest. We are indeed proud to have a published poet like Mrs. Jean O'Toole with us.

MAKING THE GRADE

Repercussions were heard from virtually all members of the faculty and student body when the county began the enforcement of the seven point grading scale. The scale:

94-100 A
87-93 B
79-86 C
78-71 D

has been in existence for the past ten years but was not widely used. The system became mandatory in an attempt to equalize the value of grades in all Fairfax County Schools.

Many teachers felt that the system did not allow a margin for calculation error as is necessary in some math and science courses. They also had difficulty in adjusting their tests to the scale as many had never used such a stringent scale before. Students felt, by general consensus, that their grades would drop considerably because of the scale.

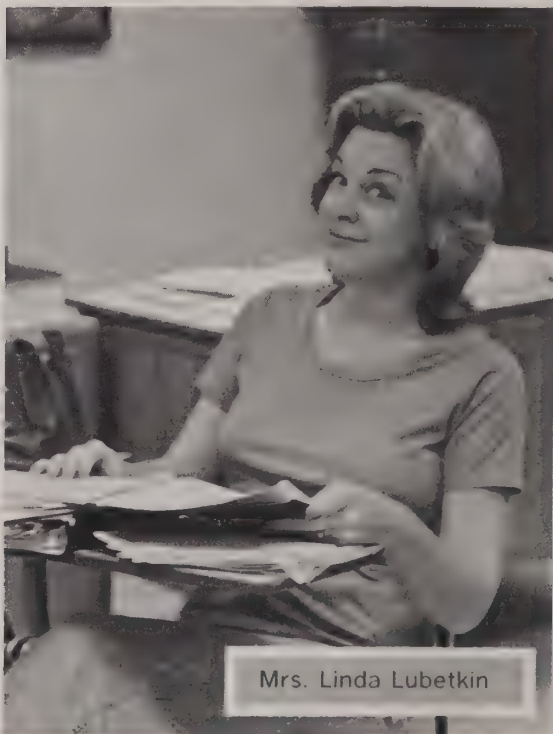

Though many still disagree with the system, students and faculty alike began to accept the seven point county grading scale as a change that was here to stay.

OVER 25 YEARS OF SERVICE

Mr. Mann And Mr. Schaffer Today.
Mr. Schaffer In 1955

Gee, dad, what was it like in school way back a quarter of a century ago? Of course upon asking this question we receive the standard answer of "I remember that when I was your age we had to walk ten miles every day just to get to school." Of course, as most of us have discovered, as the parents get older the distance gets longer.

In an attempt to get what we hoped would be the correct story, we turned to our school's veterans of 25 years. We are speaking, of course, about Mr. Mann and Mr. Schaffer. Both of our High School elders started teaching at Herndon in 1953. Mr. Mann was an English teacher, and Mr. Schaffer was teaching math.

Aside from their regular duties, these gentlemen were enthusiastic about the extra-curricular life of Herndon High School. Mr. Mann was the dramatics teacher for a number of years, while Mr. Schaffer led the Track team to victory.

The question we posed to both of these gentlemen was, what changes have you seen in Herndon High over the past 25 years?

Mr. Mann explains that at one time we were one of the best schools around in athletics. Also, Debate and Dramatics were definitely strong points here.

One thing that both men concur on is the close knit feeling that ran through Herndon. "Everyone knew everyone else, we were all sort of one large family." At the time that both of these men started, the population of Herndon High was a staggering 400, not much comparison to Herndon's present student body of 2,600. Both of these men also agree that Herndon is no longer the close social group that it used to be, so perhaps there will be a change for the better in our school spirit in the near future.

Does this look a little strange to you? Not to the Computer Science students. To them, this is just another problem to solve before their calculator batteries run down. Did I say calculators? I guess I did. You've seen the type, with calculators strapped to their belts and glasses so thick that their eyes seem distorted. They don't look that way to make you laugh. They have an image to uphold.

All seriousness aside, the computer science students study computer history, computer techniques, computer uses and computer languages. To a lot of them working with computers is more of a hobby than a chore. When one walks into the computer science room he sees a lot of people huddled around the terminals appearing to be really interested in their work, and they are, but just what kind of 'work' are they doing? Is it the dreaded assigned programs of Mrs. Goswick? No. They are in front of the terminals usually 'hacking' or playing games with the computers.

HUMANITIES

The humanities program is a sort of cultural vegetable soup. The course, which is taught by our own beloved and fearless leader Curry Belfield is offered through the A.L.P. program and meets two days a week. It is a unique chance for people to get together to see and do things out of their everyday routine. The course centers on getting people out doing things, that they never would have even thought of doing otherwise. For some this has included taking in a Junior Miss Pageant, touring D.C., performances at Arena Stage of a New Wave concert. No matter what they do, you can bet if it's for humanities it will be different.

CLONES?

Once upon a time, there was a certain History teacher who's name just happened to be Bob Coughlan and who was extremely interested in baseball.

"Strange", you say, "there is a History teacher at Herndon whose name is Bob Coughlan and who is extremely interested in baseball. In fact, in his spare time he recruits young prospects for the Los Angeles Dodgers. It is even rumored that he has discovered no less than 5 players who are now in the Major leagues."

Yes, well this Bob Coughlan also recruited baseball players who showed outstanding talent.

"Well, well, well!" These two Bob Coughlan's definitely have a lot in common! Maybe they're clones."

Hummmmm, a very interesting prospect, but on with the story. .

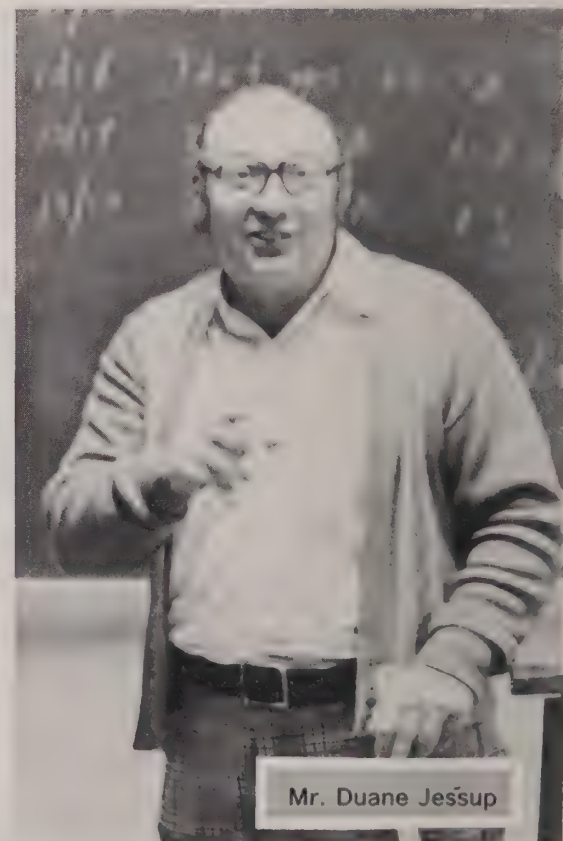

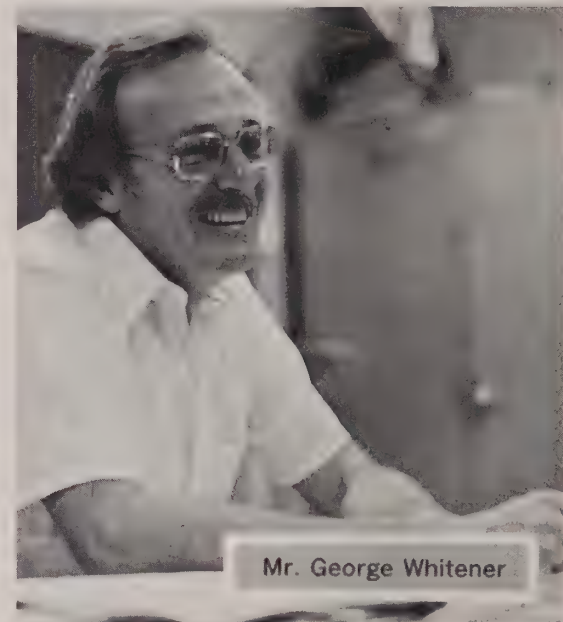

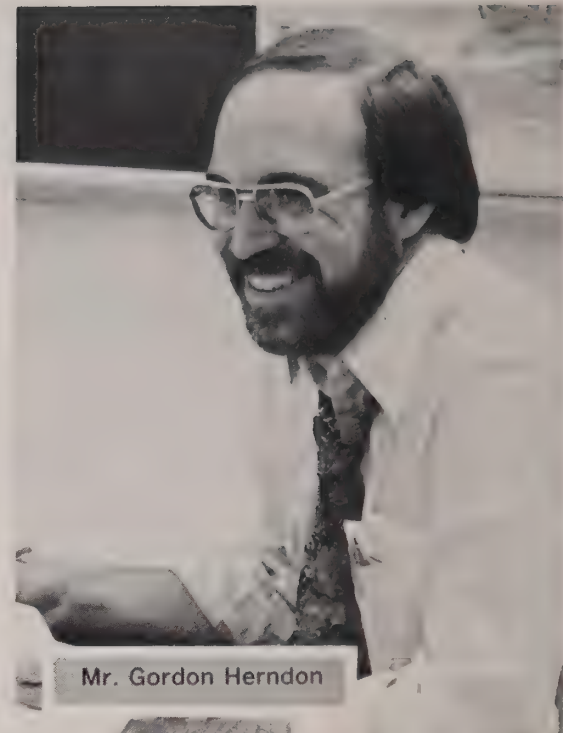

One day, many years ago, our mythical hero started a summer baseball league (he wasn't the founder, but this enterprising person was the one who popularized it in the area) where motivated, excited, determined hopefuls came from all over the country to play baseball.

Now these 3 months were not all fun and "games", many sacrifices had to be made. For instance, their hair was chopped off and many had to leave their families and girl friends behind. However, this Mr. Coughlan would never leave these boys in a lurch. So, he found them jobs, apartments, and for some he even helped find girl friends.

Now I suppose your absolutely full of suspense, not knowing if our own Bob Coughlan is the Bob Coughlan, baseball recruiter. Well, I'll tell you their not clones they are in fact one and the same person.

It seems that somehow he is able to teach history here at Herndon and also be this involved in baseball. How he does it is hard to say but evidently he does and all the more power to him.

ROCK-HOUND

She majored in Geology at college and was pulled out of the Army Reserves during the Korean War to use her talents as an aerial photo interpreter. After the war she decided to continue with the Army and there received her Masters degree in economics with a minor in economic geology. She was stationed with the Army Corps. of Engineers at Fort Belvoir, Virginia and there taught at the Engineering School. After 20 years of Army life, she decided to change her lifestyle and give high school teaching a try. Who is this "she" you've been learning so much about; our own Kathleen Wilkes, who has been teaching earth science and science seminar during her 9 years here.

Miss Wilkes is an avid rock-hound who enjoys spending her free time working in trout streams, in Great Falls and nearby mountains. She often takes groups of 8 - 10 interested students with her on these excursions, totally separate from the school. Among her other studies and interests, Mrs. Wilkes has taken courses in Mineralogy, geology and lapidary (jewelry-making), both beginner and advanced. and has become a member of the Northern Virginia Mineral Club.

She takes an active interest in lapidary and uses her well crafted products for birthday and Christmas gifts.

Yes, Miss Wilkes is truly an accomplished woman, who we hope will continue with her interests using them to teach and benefit others, as they do now.

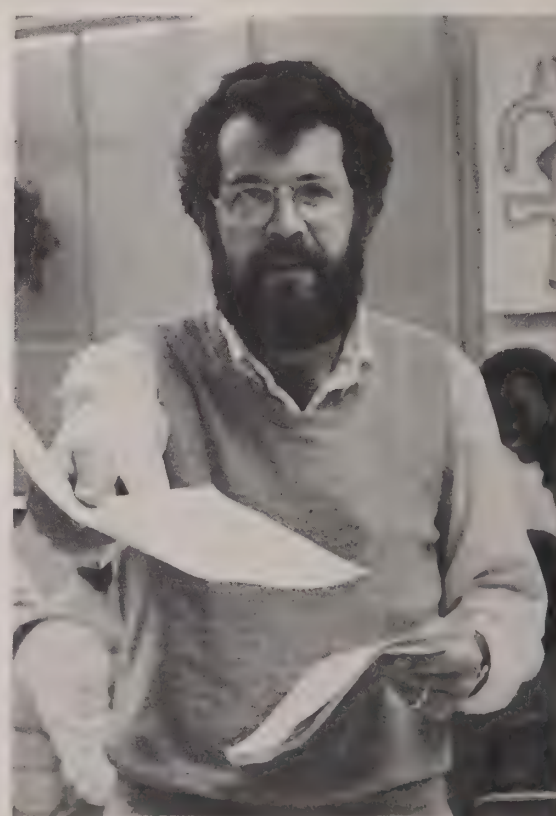

ROOTS

Have you ever had the paranoid feeling that someday, somehow, plants could possibly overtake the world? Well, all those science-fiction watchers and readers can put their minds to rest. As long as we have horticulture classes to take care of and control our waxy, green friends, we shouldn't need to worry. Actually, they do more than just take care of plants. Horticulture I students learn to identify as well as care for the many types of plants around us. As the Horticulture I student progresses into his second year of horticulture, Horticulture II, he really begins to take root into his classwork. Hort. II goes into landscaping and plant decorating. Caring for plants properly is a necessity, and with the knowledge gained in Horticulture, our societies can continue to prosper more healthfully - without the threat of attack.

THE FACE IN THE BACK CORNER OF THE LIBRARY

Joan Houghton-Dixon is spending a year here at Herndon High. While she is here she is being paid by the National Institute of Mental Health (NIMH) and her work experience will fulfill academic credit towards her Masters degree in psychology. Joan plans to graduate from George Mason University in May of 1979 and her degree will be specialized in industrial psychology with a counseling supplement.

Joan was assigned to Herndon by the NIMH for a research and demonstration project, to learn about the needs and resources of young people. Her title at NIMH is that of Program Analyst (Specializing in Youth Issues and Concerns). She has been working on youth projects and as a volunteer in the areas of drug abuse, running away, adolescent suicide, coping and adaptation since 1972. She has been counseling young women in a program which deals with teen-age drug addiction, called Crossroads. She supports some of the kids (whom she met through the Crossroads program) both financially and through letters. One girl that Joan worked with, now works in a program, Teen Challenge, which counsels kids all over the world.

Joan is also involved in another program, which she helped to start, The Crusade for Mental Health. It is a community group of people committed to reach out to people, many of whom are in crisis situations. Their main goal is to be a friend and to meet the needs of people who are in a crisis, first on a one-to-one basis, and then to reach out on a larger scale. Another one of her many activities is that of Mental Health Consultant for the Business and Professional Women's Club of Herndon.

Herndon is very lucky to have someone like Joan Houghton-Dixon who cares so much about people to get involved in so many programs which benefit young people and others in need.

HAND ME A SCREWDRIVER!

Have you ever been walking out to the football field, the tennis courts, or to your car for lunch and noticed a group of students wielding blow torches? Well, that's the maintenance and repair course in action. Auto body and auto mechanics are just one small part of this intricate two year vocational program.

The first year students have six requirements, which they are to work on during the first quarter. These are sheet metal work, brazing, electrical welding, small engine mechanics, metal lathe, and wood projects. After they have finished with these projects they may spend their free time working on auto mechanics and auto body.

During the second nine week period they learn brick laying for two weeks and spend the rest of the quarter on free time work. The third quarter consists of two weeks of carpentry and free time work and the fourth is one week of small engine mechanics and free time.

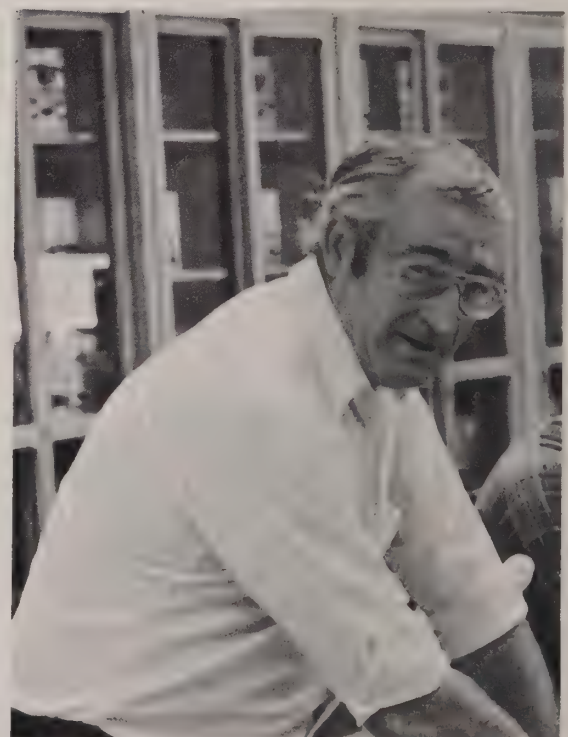

During the second year of maintenance and repair the students participate in specialized projects in the same areas of study as the first year students. Mr. Hutton who teaches the course six hours a day feels that it's really all worth it and that the students gain a tremendous amount of skill and experience from the course.

PLANNING PERIOD

Most of us are under the impression that teachers just goof off during their planning period. It really sounds like a fantastic system, teach five periods get one free. Unfortunately that's not exactly how it works. According to the teachers we talked to, this time is well spent grading papers, Xeroxing things, and making lesson plans. Of course we'd like to think they just take off for McDonalds, but apparently it just isn't so. We learned that according to Miss Bailey, "... having your planning period fourth is the pits, it's too noisy to get anything done!" Mrs. Crouch tells us that it's best to have a planning period sixth, "... if I get everything done, then I don't have to bring anything home," and she admits that if she had one any other period she might waste it.

Mr. Irwin, Mr. Lee and Mr. Oliver all help pick up papers in the halls during their spare time, well, what ever turns you on. Mrs. Cushing says that during her free period, oops! planning period, she tries to get a cup of coffee, if there's any left. It seems that this time really is put to good use, we students should try to be more understanding when we see our teachers chatting in the lounges, I mean if they didn't have this period, who knows when we'd get our papers back!

Busiest Room

One of the busiest rooms in our school must be the clinic. Mrs. Russell, our school nurse has seen up to fifty students in a single day with ailments ranging from racoon bites to the usual sore throat to upset stomach. She also told us that December and February seem to be the peak months for the clinic. P.E. brings in its usual share of jammed fingers and twisted ankles. Hockey season, however, is the most notorious sport for inducing injuries to the eyes and face. Surprisingly enough there are those students in our school who have become 'regulars' at the clinic often developing serious illnesses or other afflictions during classes which they do not like.

OIL PORTRAITS

In addition to teaching art and photography here at HHS, Ms. Marcia Fuqua specializes in oils of public figures. She has painted an impressive list of congressmen, senators, judges and doctors, including the personal physician of Maghandi.

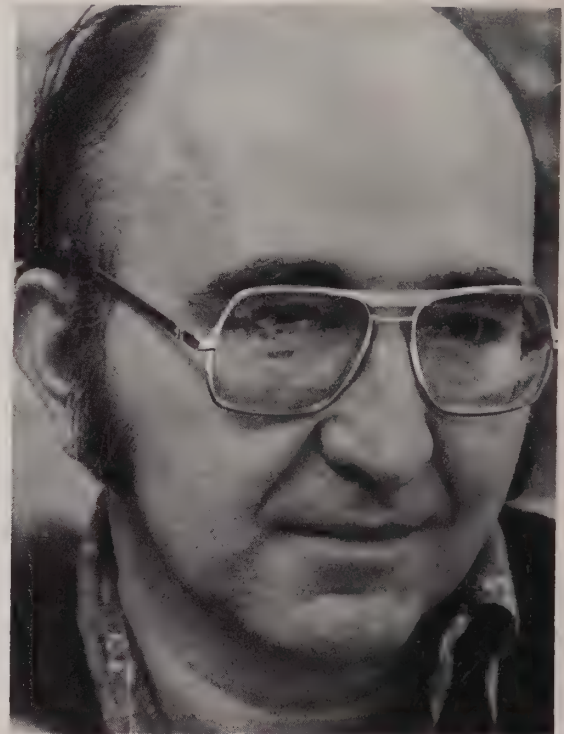

Before he was elected to congress, congressman Pell of Rhode Island approached Mrs. Fuqua and requested that she do a portrait of him, if, and when he won. Since she was so enthusiastic about doing the portrait Ms. Fuqua even went out and campaigned for him.

Present day figures are not the only people she puts on canvas. Although she prefers live subjects, Marcia has studied Robert E. Lee from a photograph and has successfully transferred his likeness onto canvas.

Ms. Fuqua has been painting since her childhood and studied with the famous painter Kefimald Marsh. She emphasizes the impor-

SPORTS

The men behind the team

Concern, hope and emotion are always present during a game.

Coach Noll uses a little sign language.

The team was always ready and willing to congratulate its outstanding members.

Man that number 55 looks like a giant.

FOOTBALL

When the name Herndon is mentioned many things come to mind, a winning football team is not among them. Unfortunately, there was no JV team this year due to the deportation of many sophomores and freshmen to South Lakes. There was a Freshman and Varsity team, but their records were nowhere near an indication of how well the teams performed on the field and how hard they practiced off the field.

The season started off slowly, with the Varsity unable to even win one game in five contests. Then the "Big Red Machine" decided to get their act together for Homecoming and came out victorious. Overall the season was:

Mount Vernon	23-12	Herndon:	loss
Hayfield	34-0	Herndon:	loss
Langley	15-14	Herndon:	loss
Marshall	21-17	Herndon:	loss
Oakton	19-8	Herndon:	loss
Edison	15-20	Herndon:	WIN! *
Madison	25-15	Herndon:	loss
Chantilly	15-15	Herndon:	tie
Yorktown	13-20	Herndon:	WIN!
McLean	13-11	Herndon:	loss

*HOMECOMING

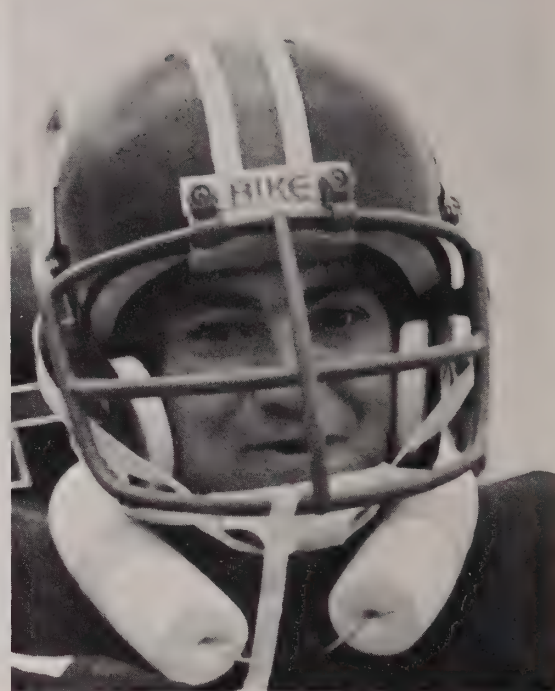

One of the causes that contributed to the team's losses were injuries. However, one brilliant success story was that of Mark Brown. Mark, although injuring his ankle at the close of the season, gained well over 900 yards for the year which put him over the 1500 yd. mark for two yards. Mid way through the season, Brown was the second leading scorer in the Metro area.

The team overall was very young housing many sophomores as well as a few freshmen. The class of '80 contributed Kurt Dixon, considered an excellent quarterback. Kurt led the team with a powerhouse offense including such notables as Mark Brown and Kenny Saupe. However the seniors probably contributed the most. Fine examples were tri-captains Bobby Crumpton, Craig Gillegand and Jim Cook. They not only gave the team their all, but had to constantly maintain a high level of leadership. This helped to keep spirits high on the team, which wasn't an easy task.

Being president of the S G A is a lot safer, but I like it.

Did you see me smear that halfback?

The tougher it gets the better we like it.

We played so few games in the day light we hardly knew which way to turn.

When your reputation is on the line you have to produce.

The devotion necessary to make a team that can compete on the high level on which the Hornet's play, can not be overemphasized. First of all, the players donated practically their entire summer and had to sacrifice what most students take for granted—jobs. Their first regular practice started at the beginning of August with temperatures well into the 90's. Practice began at eight, (players who had to be taped arrive even earlier) with a "chalk session" by the coach for an hour. Then came two hours of practice followed by another "chalk session" and finally home for lunch. After lunch the process started all over again. These "two-a-days" as they are called, meaning two full practices in one day, got the better of many players. Through this kind of training, only the 'fittest' survived.

Coach Don Noll, who arrived at Herndon two years ago, has an excellent reputation for taking schools renowned for their losses and turning them around. He has led many teams to Regional titles and a few even as far as the State Championships. However, this year his task has been anything but easy. Coaching is a year round occupation which requires much time, before, during and after each season. During the winter Coach Noll diligently works at trying to raise money for his team. Scouting is also very important and checking up on what other teams are doing seems to be a necessity. In addition, he has players on a conditioning program throughout the year to keep them in tip-top shape. The athletes who have worked under Coach Noll seem to have a lot of respect and admiration for him. With this kind of admiration, coaching and determination the Hornet's seem to have all the ingredients to make a winning team. Maybe next year.

Freshman Football

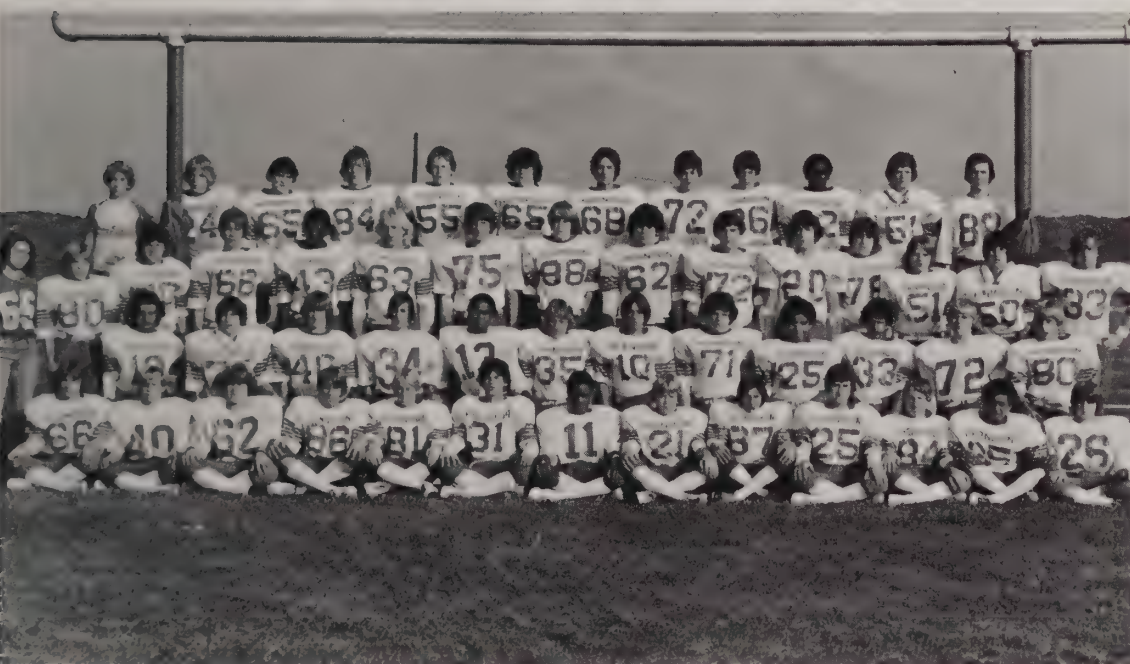

Freshmen Football

Marshall	12- 0	Herndon: loss
Madison	20- 14	Herndon: loss
Oakton	14- 0	Herndon: loss
McLean	20- 14	Herndon: loss

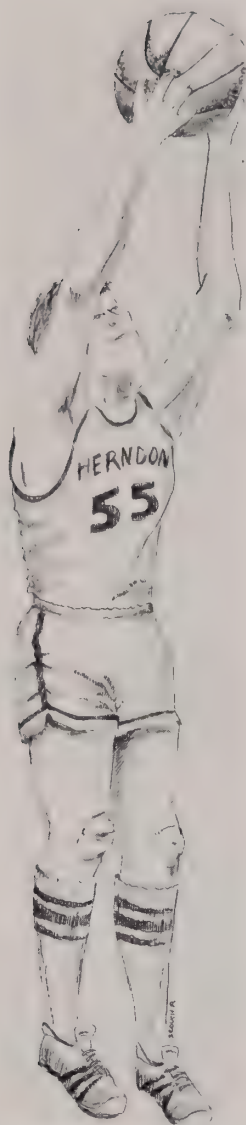

In striking contrast to the varsity the freshmen team started the season off explosively, defeating newly formed South Lakes 16-6, but came up short for the rest of the season. Quarterback Chuck Moore was considered to have an excellent throwing arm and was backed by an equally promising offensive line consisting of reputed Rob Rust, Joe Cody and Phil Bullock. Defensively, backs Eddie Dandridge and J.J. Smith kept the opposition from any long gains. Linebacker Lars Okenson kept the ground game pretty well stacked up. Coach Larry Money stated that "the attitude of the team was super", he felt they wanted to win, as does any team, and they also put in hard work even after the season finished. Coach Money emphasized that poor back-up from the students may have affected the team's ability stating that "you have to support a loser before you can support a winner."

Varsity Basketball

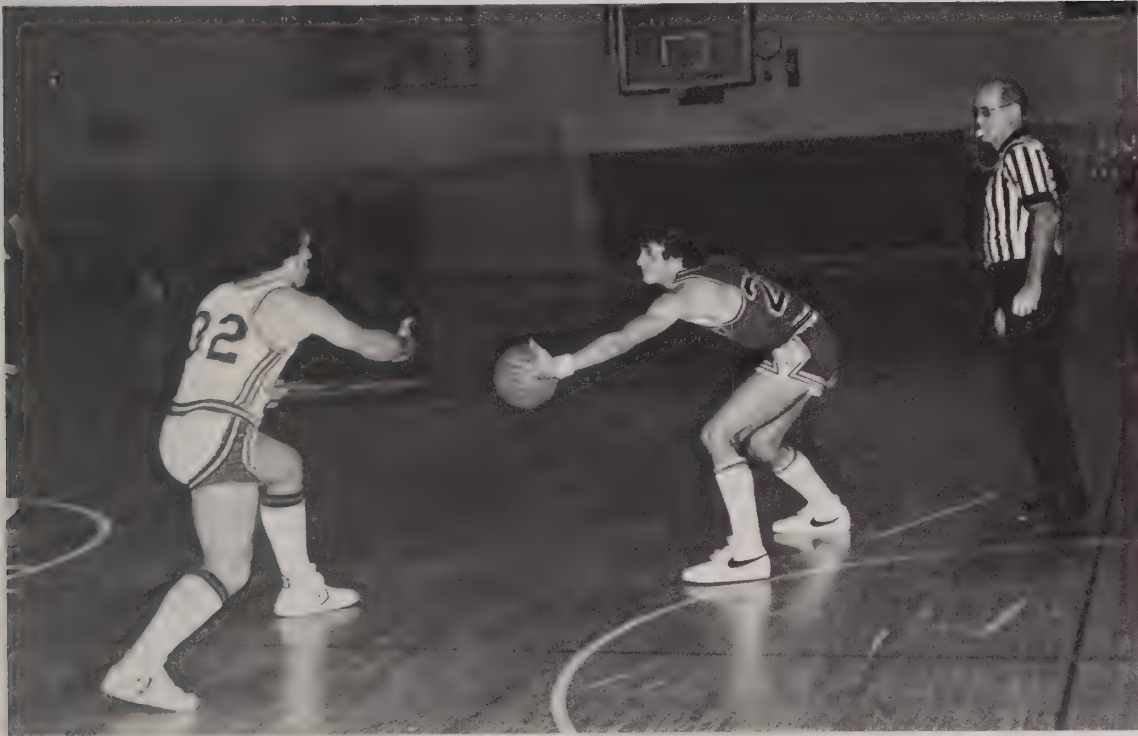

Due to a number of setbacks the Boys' Varsity team didn't make as good a showing as had been hoped for this season. Serious foul trouble in a number of games, as well as a few illnesses and injuries, contributed to the problems of a young and relatively inexperienced squad. The team was coached by American History teacher Duane Jessup and put forth tremendous effort in all of their games.

Although the team's youth may have been a problem this season, it should prove to be a good foundation for next year's squad. Only 6 of the 12 remaining players will be graduating. Of these only two are from the usual starting lineup, Greg Hubley and Bob Crumpton, who were also the co-captains. However, the efforts of the other 4 seniors, Craig Gilley, Greg Johnson, Chris Mullaney and newcomer Doug Godard, will be sorely missed.

Hopefully, with the remaining lineup of sophomore Jeff Fleig and juniors Ritch Struder and Earl Rector, the team will be able to produce the winning season which was hoped for this year. This can almost be assured with the return of the other 3 junior members of the squad, Dave Shebat, Jack Matney and Bill Shonk, who showed strong capabilities throughout the season.

The highlight of the Herndon sport scene was the Girl's Varsity Basketball team. Although they didn't receive as much attention or audience turnout as the guy's team, they most definitely proved their worthiness of it. They went into the Regionals undefeated hoping to get a shot at the State Championship. In the preliminary Regionals, they scored 79-58 against Lake Braddock, their highest scoring game yet in the season. All the girls spent long hard hours working and practicing, and it should have been no surprise to anyone that they did as well as they did. When asked to name a few highlights, Coach Beaver's immediate response was "the whole season". The team's starting five were: Ann Johnson, Lavon Jones, Beverly Wiggons, Diane Hersey, and Norma Horne, and they all did exceptional jobs!

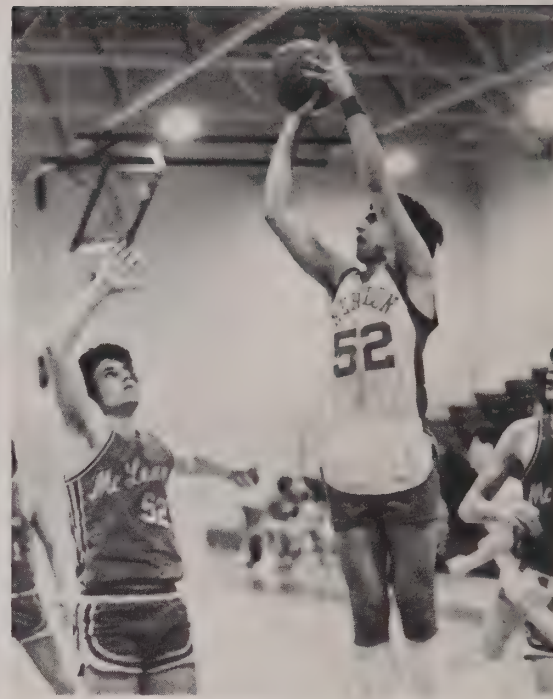

J.V. Basketball

Boys

Recognition should go to Coach Steve Franklin and all the Junior Varsity Basketball players who devoted time and effort to represent our school. Although team spirit and enthusiasm followed the Junior Varsity throughout the season, it wasn't enough to bring them better than a 1-19 season and 1-13 District record. Many of last year's freshman team were lost to the South Lakes Junior Varsity team which ended their season with a 18-1 season, their only loss being to the George Mason High Varsity team.

Those who watched the team's progression during the season noticed tremendous improvement on the part of individuals and on the team as a whole. Sophomores Jimmy Ervin and Kevin Saupe led the scoring with an average of 10 points per game, with Joe Moore leading in rebounds. With the return of freshman Pat Morrissey and Ronnie Hall and fewer injuries, next year's squad will hopefully do better.

Girls Field Hockey

The girls on field hockey, both junior varsity and varsity, made an excellent showing this season. The varsity team started their season with an exciting win over Marshall. Losing by one goal in the first half, the girls came back by scoring 4 goals to win the game, 4-2. A big highlight of the season was the victory over McLean. A team that has not been beaten by Herndon in 7 years. Although the record was not outstanding, the girls showed steady improvement resulting in a victorious win of 3-0. The final record was 3-4-4.

Not only did the varsity team's season go well, but the junior varsity team also had a successful year. By the end of the season the junior varsity team had a victorious record of 6-2-2.

Voted most spirited by her teammates was Lisa Marshall and most valuable player went to Lisa Florman. With the help and support of Coach Ruth Ledane, the teams sharpened their skills and gained new knowledge of the game making it a worthwhile season.

TENNIS TEAM

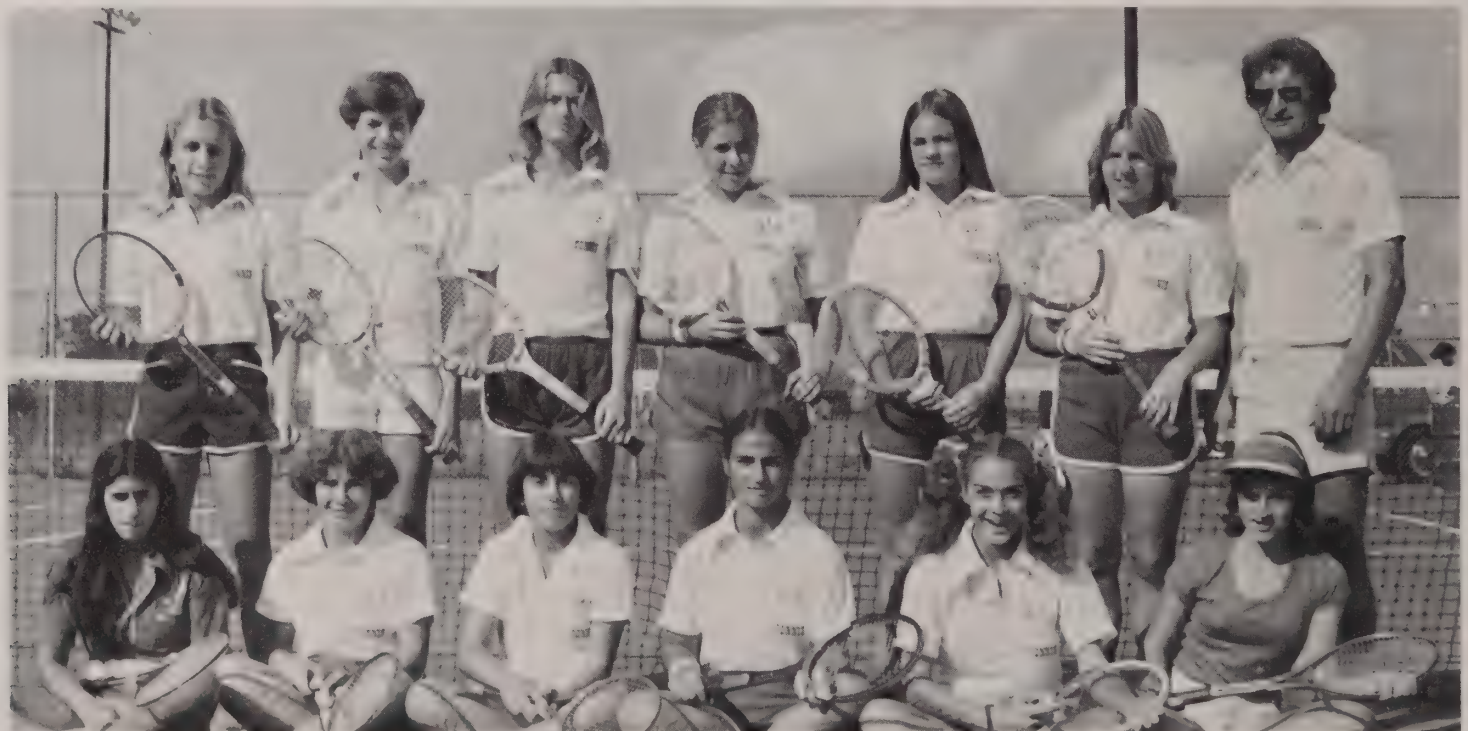

The girl's Tennis Team swung into action in early September. After a long, strenuous, and dedicated summer of vigorous practice, the girls looked optimistically forward to the challenge that awaited them. The team returned six of their top eight players giving them a lot of depth. The squad was coached for the second year by Ed Zuraw. The team itself consists of co-captain Linda Obradovic and Melissa Contos, seniors Anne Marie Bolton, Barbara DiPietro, Anna Finch, and Susu Nanda, plus juniors Jean Male (the runner-up to Contos in the Simon Cup tournament held last August), Sharon Huminick, Jamie Jadlos, and Lisa Traylor. Betsy Jackman and Bonnie Gelacak were the two sophomores and Holly Fridinger has been cited as a promising freshmen player. The team also wishes to recognize their manager and inspirational leader Denni Giraudo.

The dedication and hard work of the Swim team proved to be invaluable this year. The members had to rebuild the team after the loss of several seniors last year. But they recouped their losses quite well.

Grueling practice sessions, strict diets and refraining from partying paid off as the fighting Hornet's swim team provided a winning season. The team improved greatly after their first meet and became a real threat in the district. Lack of spirit and student leadership proved to be the teams biggest problems. However, they wish to thank Mr. Smith for his exceptional coaching job and Mr. Price for attending some of their meets. The seniors wish next year's team the best of luck. And Allen Bradley paid us to mention his name.

Not bad for a beginner.

A look of determination and confidence.

It's A bird, It's a plane . . . the diving team was really great this year.

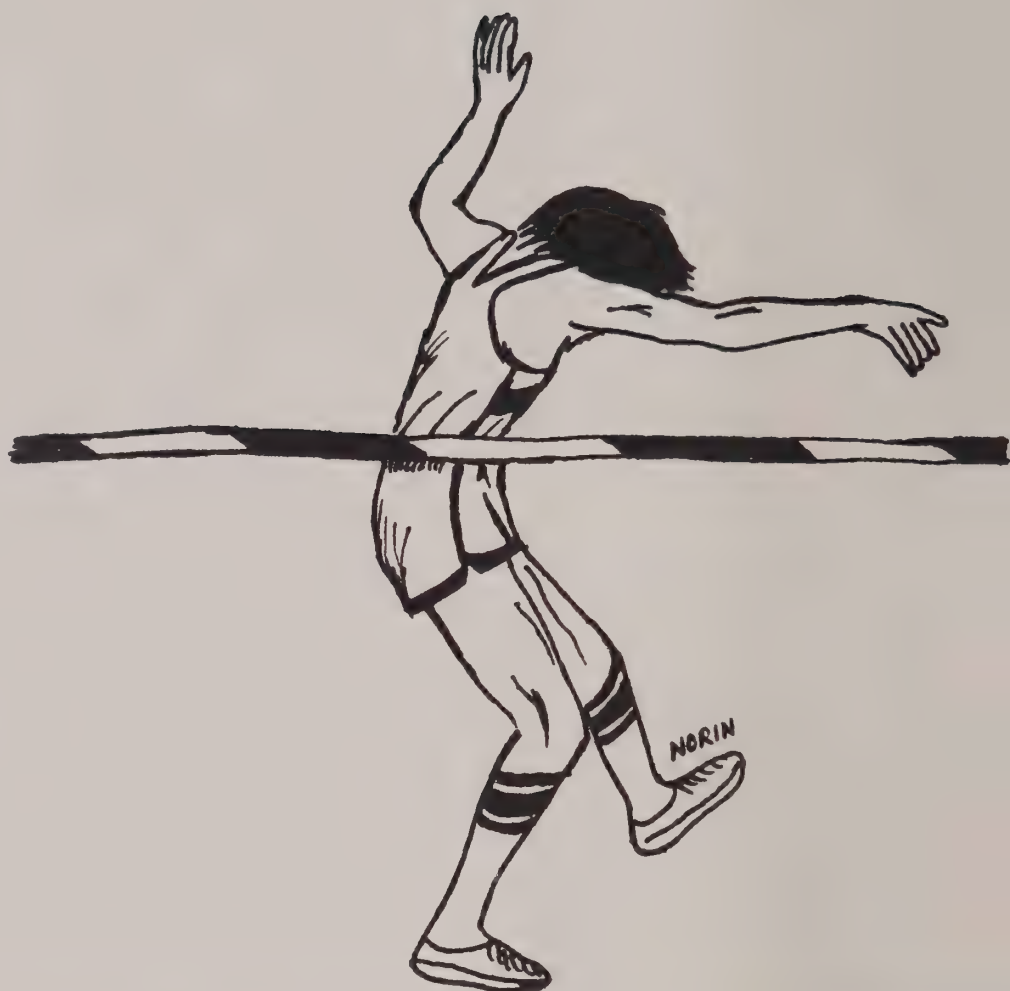

Now look, I want you guys to get home and rest up for the meet tonight.

Being a non-spectator sport, Indoor Track is not as glamorous as football or maybe basketball, but the athletes are just as determined to win and they work just as hard. Although their season's scores were not pleasing, they were not indicative of the way the team really shaped up. Led by captains Bill Barnhart, Eddie Fichtel, Al Rossi and Marc Slack, the team excelled in field events, usually winning each event and leading in team competition mid-way through the meet. Mike Clarkson whose triple and long jumping efforts took him to the regionals competition, always provided the team with points. Sophomore Mark Brown, another bright hopeful who made it to regionals, placed first during a few meets in what is considered the most intense event, high jumping.

One of the main reasons for Herdon's lack of points was the lack of training facilities. Often being pushed out of the gyms because of basketball, the team either had to run outside in the freezing cold or run inside, through the hallways. A few teachers as well as students were irritated with the runners, but most understood and often encouraged them.

However, the season did have its high points. In a tri-meet against Chantilly and state champions T.C. Williams, the team placed second. They also sent Bill Barnhart, Dennis Whalen, Mike Clarkson and Mark Brown to the Regionals.

CROSS COUNTRY

Under the new direction of Coach Panagus, the Hornet Cross Country team was greatly inspired. They finished the regular season with a 5-2 record. The only two losses were from state champion Oakton, and runner-up Langley.

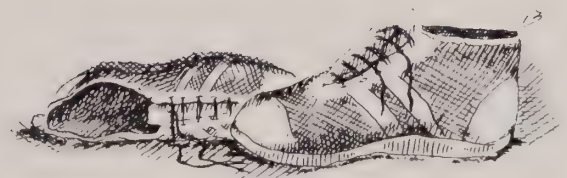

The University of Virginia Invitational was the high point of the invitational meets. The Hornets finished fifth out of twenty-two schools with team captain, David Hamilton, taking first place out of 154 runners. Other invitationals included William and Mary, and Georgetown Prep.

The best meet of the regular season was a tri-meet against Marshall and South Lakes. Besides scoring a perfect fifteen, the team's first seven runners took the first seven places. Next fall should prove to be another excellent season since the team is young with only two varsity runners graduation.

Coach Sue Bandow stated that the reason the Girl's Gymnastics Team did so well this season was because they all had a "serious interest" in gymnastics. The girls won all but two of their meets and those were lost by under a point each. The team placed 2nd in Districts with Captain, Amy Reevesman receiving 4th in A.A. (all-around), Co-Captain, Jeanne Inberman 3rd in A.A., Elaine Ailsworth 4th on floor and Fran DeFatta 7th on the vault. These four girls also went to Regionals where Amy placed 14th and Jeanne 10th.

RIFLE SQUAD

One of the many things which Herndon High could boast of was the Rifle Squad. Through many hours of devotion, and not quite as much support as they deserved, our Squad was able to break records of past performances during their meets with Montgomery, Fort Hunt and Woodson. Mark Slack, a junior and holder of one of the new records, participated in the Regional Competition in early March.

Wow, a fur lined spotters scope

Varsity Wrestling

Putting in hours upon hours of hard work was characteristic of the Varsity Wrestling Team. Recordwise the season was a disappointment. But on an individual basis the year was somewhat of a success. Dicky Dannenberg who finished the season undefeated also finished the year 6th in the regionals in the 98 pound class. Junior Eric Smith, who missed a major part of the season due to illness came back to take 2nd in districts and 6th in regionals in the 126 pound class. Another standout during the season was Tim Sennott 105 pound class, who placed 7th in regional competition. The team itself felt a deep admiration for Coach Hand, who when the team fell behind was always there the next time pushing even harder.

CHEERLEADERS

This year's Varsity Cheerleaders played a major part in promoting a fresh new school image. Headed by captains Keri Baker and Linda Bowman, the squad took advantage of our new start with a new principal and helped to instigate the school's reborn feeling-Proud Hornets.

In addition to practicing at least two days a week after school, these girls planned pep rallies, participated in numerous fund raisers, attended a summer clinic and decorated lockers.

A cheerleader's main purpose is not to be a sideline show, but to involve the crowds. This year's squad's main priority was just this, and they achieved it very effectively.

CHEERLEADERS

Oh you big handsome, wonderful hornet, you.

By the opening football game, the Junior Varsity and Freshman Cheerleaders had already spent many hard hours practicing during the summer. Much time was spent trying to learn and co-ordinate cheers and routines. Besides cheering at the numerous football and basketball games, the two squads worked with the Varsity Cheerleaders at pep rallies and helped put up spirit posters. The squads, led by Captains Joanne Beitel (JV) and Greta Sproles (freshmen) each put in two practices per week.

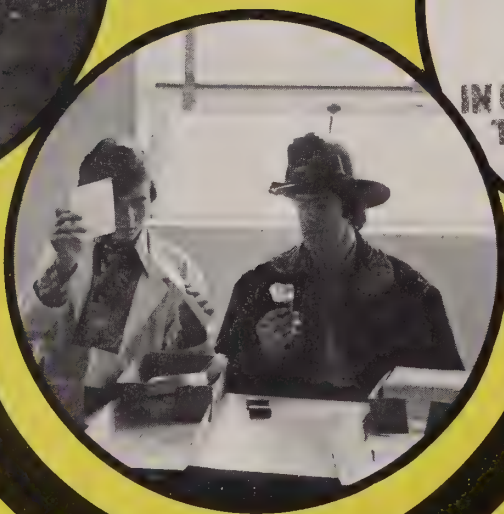

Did you see that tall blond halfback playing on Oaktons team.?

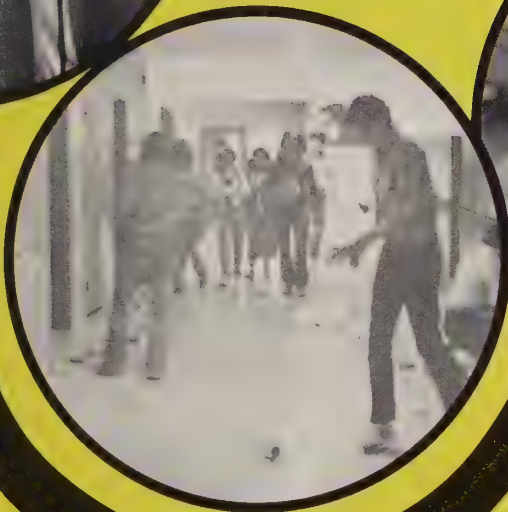

At night the cheerleaders must be very careful as to what they do, because their show-dows are doing the same thing

SENIORS

Senior Class

After 3 years of submissiveness came our year of dominance. We knew our place. We are the class of 1979.

It was hard to believe how slowly, but at the same time, how quickly high school had passed. This last year especially, just flew by.

There were the vows to do better as the questions of class ranks and semester finals drew near. Afterwards, other fates were determined; colleges accepted and rejected, futures were decided. Then came the senior slump, skipped classes, and a certain apathy. Towards the end, days became suddenly shorter and the underclass paid their last awesome respects to the graduating class of 1979.

Our high school days are behind us now. Half of us hated to leave it; the people, the familiarities, the times, and even the place. But there's the other half, anxious for that one day we really did work for, to get out and move on, to step out of high school into the "real world".

High School was truly an experience. From these past four years we have the memories, cherished and otherwise. We close the decade and end an era. These years are a part of us and they will be remembered always.

'80 EXCELS!

The class of '80 has begun to make their mark early in the world. Since their graduation year begins a new decade, great things will be expected of them. But they have already begun to fulfill these expectations.

Such individuals as Kurt Dixon, varsity quarterback; Chris Bullock, track sprinter; Bruno Singh, long distance runner; Skip Edmond, super swimmer; Jean Male, well known tennis player; and Sharon Crumpton, who excels in most sport in which she participates, are among the juniors who display the class of '80's athletic success.

Four juniors were nominated for the Governors School for the Gifted. SGA first vice-president, Brad Short is a junior as are all the Key Club officers.

Greg Gillis, another junior is considered one of the finest artists at HHS as well as the biggest. Among the musically talented juniors are Charlie Marsh-pianist, and Elliot Deluca-noted drummer.

Juniors also overflow onto all the HHS publications staffs. Harry Lister, a Stinger editor also writes for several other papers and is especially reknown for his sports articles.

This is just a small sampling of the multi-talented students who comprise the class of '80. With talent like this, watch out!

The class of '80 has one organization that they can really be proud of . . . the Junior Advisory Council. As have the previous JAC's, they have taken in their hands the tremendous task of all major dances this year. Their major project was, of course, the Prom. They spent the entire school year trying to make the Prom a most memorable occasion. Other dances that our JAC deserves credit for are the Homecoming dance.

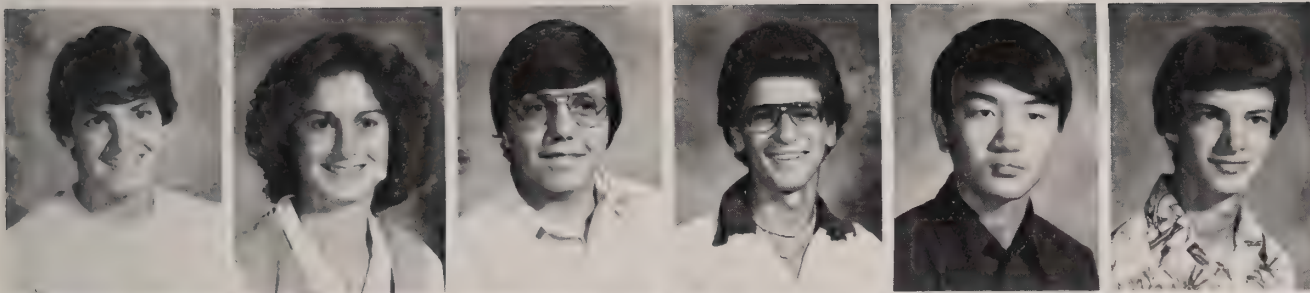

They do more, though, than just work on dances. JAC members constantly associate with other students and teachers to figure out major problems and decide upon solutions, to either work out themselves, or suggest to the SGA.

Although there are approximately twenty members of the JAC, it is fairly difficult to become a member. One must first have practically the same qualities as an Honor Society student, honesty, leadership ability, and reliability are just a few of these. Once a list of prospects is composed, JAC officers sit down and decide who would do the best at the job. Then and only then, can one become a member. It seems that such close scrutiny in selecting JAC members has paid off. Just look at all they have accomplished this year.

Members of the upperclass team, Carol Close and Susan Keriakos among them, watch one of the plays which lead to their usual victory over their youngest classmates, in the Powder Puff Game.

JUNIOR DILEMMAS

There are many symbols of the junior year that are looked forward to with great anticipation, PSAT's and SAT's are not among them. However, somewhere in the midst of the parties, the class ring, the drivers license and other traditions of the year before the final year of high school, must come that dreaded barrage of examinations.

Upon entering a PSAT or a SAT testing room students are shuffled around into a reasonable facsimile of alphabetical order. Then after a repetition of that long and dull dissertation explaining that one mustn't color outside of the ovals with one's #2 pencil, the onslaught of questions begins. Everything from Karl Marx to the cost per pound of spinach is covered. Students leave feeling as though they've just come through the main intersection during rush hour. Weeks later, when the results come in, the ecstatic few who are pleased with their scores gleam with pride and the rest head for their nearest U. S. Army induction center.

After all this, it's no wonder juniors freeze when they hear someone say, "... be sure to completely erase any answer you wish to change and ..."

This look of confidence is not often seen in a testing situation.

Monica Longoria tries to collect her thoughts.

I NEED THE CHANGE

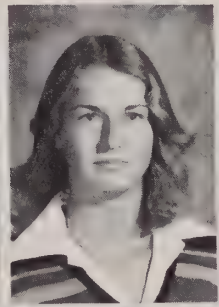

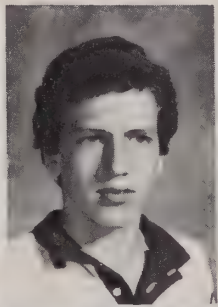

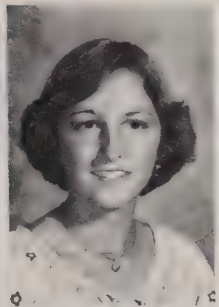

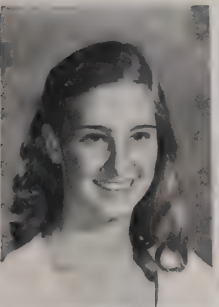

To many members of the junior and senior classes a part-time job has become a necessity. A few students laugh at the idea of doing manual labor, but they're usually the ones who don't need the money anyway. The majority of the students would rather work for such things as a car or a stereo.

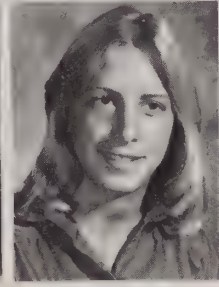

Part-time jobs can become a nuisance though. Some employers assign unusual hours to high school students probably because they are high school students. For example--"Hey John, we're short of help tonight, do you think you can stay until 2:00 am?"

"Uh sure boss, I only have to wake up at 6:00 to go to school tomorrow."

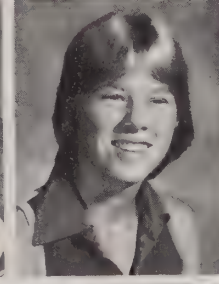

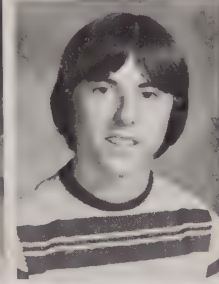

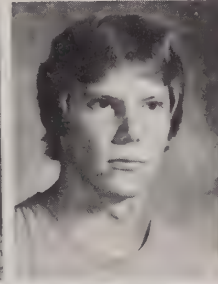

The pay is really not all that great either, minimum wage is $2.90 and many people don't even get that. But, in the long run, it's worth it. When one can finally get that car, or stereo, or whatever that he's been longing for, he receives a deep satisfaction from the knowledge that he earned it himself.

CHANGING STATUS

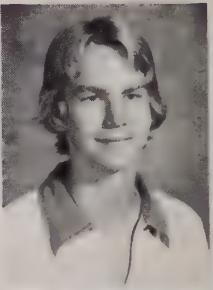

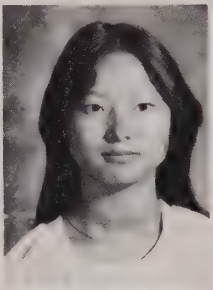

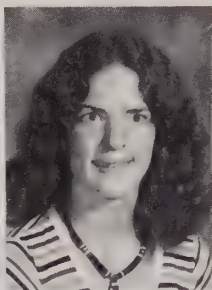

Status symbols. Everyone needs one, and one of the biggest status symbols is the class ring. Of course they're expensive, but hey, it's only money and when it comes to displaying a shiny piece of metal incasing a 'precious' stone that accents their class year, it's worth it. Even the little people are grateful to own a class ring. They can proudly shove their fist into their tormentor's face and defiantly walk off knowing that they've shown more than enough proof that they're actually older than they look.

Many people though, feel that cars are more important and are a much bigger status symbol. Cars often break down, run out of gas, need new parts and are a lot of trouble. Class rings don't break down, don't need new parts, never run out of gas and they don't blow up when hit from the rear. There aren't too many cars that can make that claim. But then again, the class ring costs almost as much as a car. If one orders a ring with all the works, such as incrusting, engraving, the best stone, the best metal, and special designs on the ring, it costs a bundle. But then again, if the ring didn't cost so much it wouldn't be considered such a status symbol.

Improve Herndon High? This question was presented to various members of the junior class. They replied:

"We need more school spirit! We need to LOVE our teams—even when they lose!" (Joan Fortin)

"Build up respect for the school." (Dawn Hagenbrock)

"I don't know, why?" (Paul Presser)

"You can always burn it or put kegs in the cafeteria." (Jon Koval)

"Ummmm, I don't know. Change the system." (Vaughn Gatling)

"We need a wider assortment of English classes. More uniformity of teaching methods from class to class. The grading scale stinks." (Lisa Sirkis)

"The main thing is getting people involved—what are you doing this for? and the counselors, they don't do a thing!" (Miriam Sijgers)

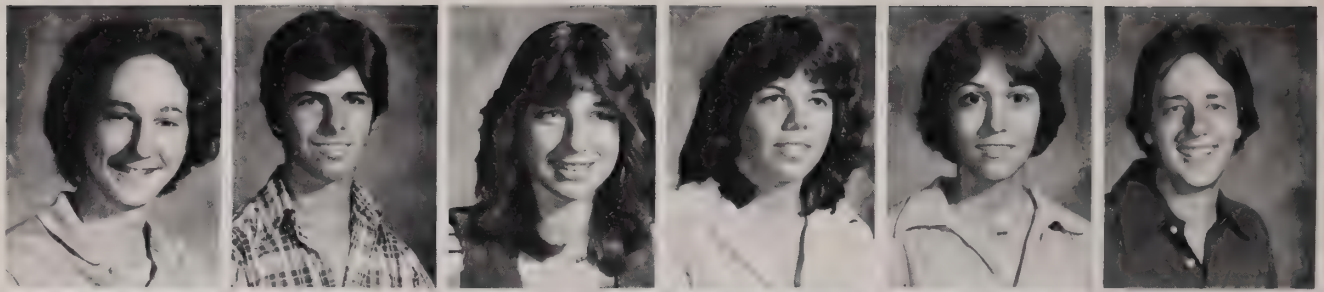

"Get rid of tobacco chewing." (Marc Dottore)

"Lots of things. We need more spirit. Unn, lets see, what else? I gotta go to lunch." (Michelle Stowers)

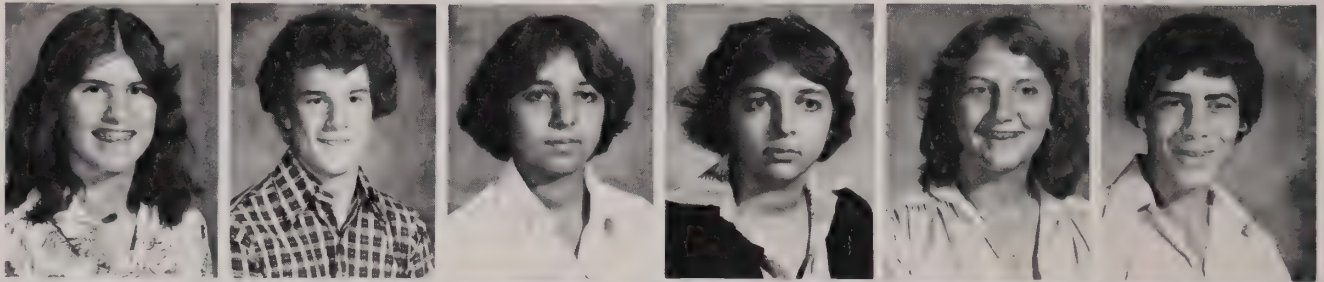

"Get the students to care enough about the school to keep it neat." (Pam Custode)

LEARNING TO LEAD

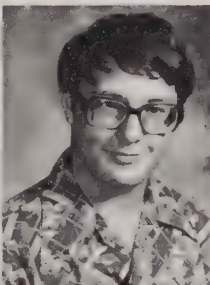

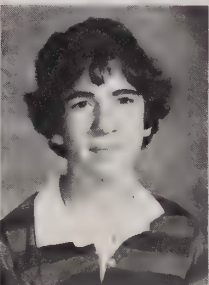

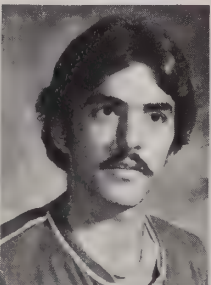

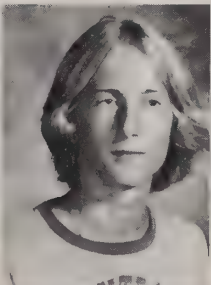

During November, members of the SGA and others participated in the Prince William Forest Park Leadership Workshop. The workshop was developed in order to assist the various SGA committees get started on their projects. Daytime activities were involved in three basic areas; Communications, Project Planning and Group Processes. The students also participated in seminars on Group Decision Making, Personal Time Management, Body Language and Improvisational Speech. These seminars covered techniques in brainstorming different approaches to fundraising and better ways of communicating with the student body. By night the clan involved themselves in an Untalent Show, a Toga Party and an "unofficial" pie throwing contest.

Everyone's contribution to the weekend made it loads of fun for the entire school's well being.

4 NOMINATED FOR GOVERNOR'S

The summer of 1979 should prove a very fulfilling one for about 420 students who will be attending the Governor's School for the Gifted.

This honor is presented to students from across the state who show outstanding ability, achievement and/or creative talent in various areas of study.

Teachers were asked to nominate students which they feel fulfill the above requirements. Students were also able to nominate themselves. Our Awards Committee had the difficult task of narrowing the field of 21 to just 4. Herndon's nominees are: Diane Dlugos, Gordon Gerson, Evelyn Hodell, and Sharon Persinger.

These names will be sent to the State Department of Education along with 600 others from across the state. Hopefully some of Herndon's nominees will be among the 420 selected to attend the school.

Among the nominees for the Governor's School is Sharon Persinger.

The SAC and Mr. Jones thought it was about time that the sophomore class began to get a little recognition. Thus they came up with sophomore superlatives.

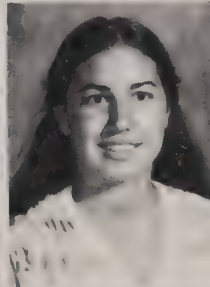

Not for any reason in particular. Just cuz. Anyway, the winners were: Best Sense of Humor: Joey Kneply and Betsy Jackman; Best Looking: Jeff Fleig and Sara Dawson; Most Likely to Succeed: Joe Wallace and Susan Hofer; Most Gullible: Bonnie Gellakic and Jamil Welch; and Typical Sophomore: Jeff Pingley and Mary Cannon.

SAC MOVES INTO ACTION!

One of the many organizations here at Herndon is the Sophomore Class Advisory Council. The council, led by class president Betsy Jackman is comprised of twenty to thirty spirited sophomores and is sponsored by Mr. Jones. This year, along with aiding the freshman with their class elections, they devoted much time and effort to their homecoming float (the big square football). In addition, they have spent a lot of time planning and putting into action fund raising activities for their well-deserving class. As is customary, the Junior class sponsors the prom and the Sophomores have worked harder than ever this year to be able to give the class of '80 a successful and enjoyable prom.

Hazardous traffic conditions jam the main intersection, alternate route advised.

What has this got to do with Sophomore Fundraising?

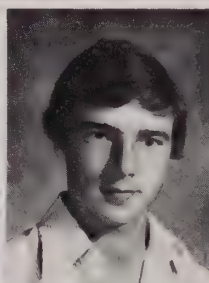

MONEY, MONEY, MONEY

Everyone likes money, right? But who wants to work for it? Well, the sophomore class has discovered that earning money can be fun. Especially when the earning is done in the form of fundraisers.

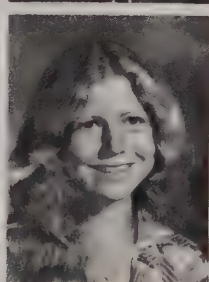

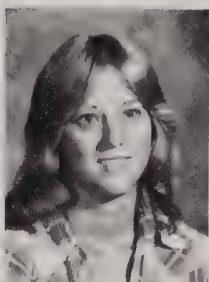

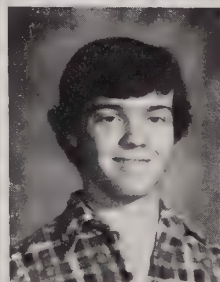

Since the sophomore class' bank account was quite depleted, they embarked upon a fundraising campaign. In the fall alone they made $300 by selling toot-sie rolls and by sponsoring numerous other money-making activities, such as dances and the Mr. Legs Contest. With all of this spirit for making money, the class of 1981 might just turn out to be the richest class that Herndon has seen for quite some time.

The Behind-the-Wheel class is the biggest hassle of getting a license.

As everybody knows, students are required to take P.E. during their freshman and sophomore years. But sophomores get the better end of the deal because each quarter a new class starts and every sophomore will get to experience I.P.D.E.

The I.P.D.E. System (Identify, Predict, Decide, and Execute) is used to teach classroom Driver's Education. The students take notes a mile long and relax by watching cute little filmstrips which could be called push-alongs. Situations are shown on the screen in which the students are able to react as they feel they would if they took the place of the man with the funny voice in the "adorable" late model car. (The car looks like something out of "Happy Days".) The students express their reactions by using push-button machines (which don't always work) to choose answers to the questions which are asked of them. One thing that the D.E. student soon learns is that when a situation involves critical objects, always choose the largest number, even if 1,280 objects aren't seen in the empty street.

The films also have a catchy little tune which is played at the beginning and end. Driver's Ed. students can often be heard humming it as they leave class.

This isn't meant to say that Driver Education is a joke. It is a very serious course which is required in order to legally obtain a license before the age of 18. It also offers a break from P.E. and a reduction in the cost of insurance, so prepare yourselves for the I.P.D.E. experience.

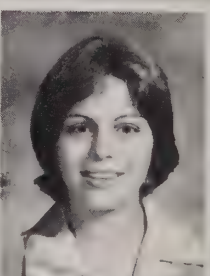

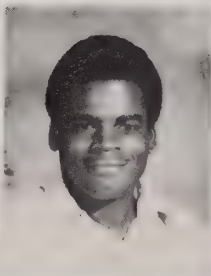

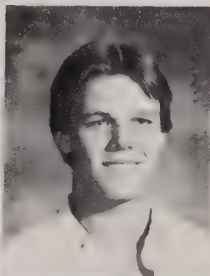

Come on down to the 'ole fishin hole in 119.

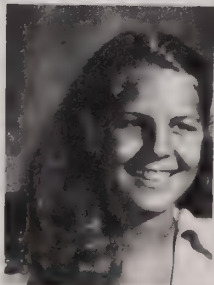

Okay Doug Allen, now that we're in here, what do we do? asks Dan Harasty.

“THE MOST IMPORTANT...”

Each class seems to view their year in a different way. We asked various members of the sophomore class what they considered to be the most important thing about their year. These are the answers we got:

The most important? The learners and the drivers license of course! (Betsy Jackman)

No SAT's yet. (Karen Snyder)

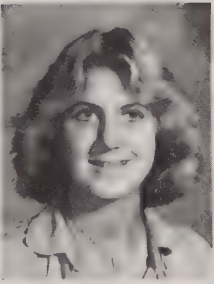

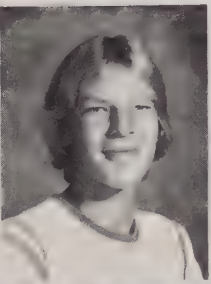

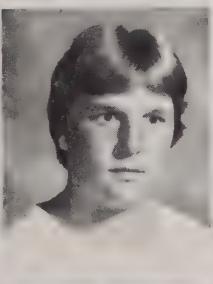

Well, it's better than being a freshman, but I'd rather be a senior. (Kathy Glennon)

Getting your intelligence insulted by being forced to take a minimum competency test! (John Flinn and Joe Wallace)

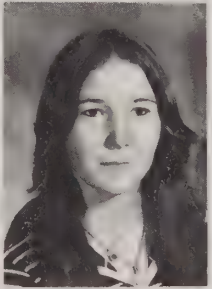

I'm more at home now, and I can say to myself. "Just look at those freshman!" (Sydney Robinson)

The most important thing is finally being taken seriously (at least some of the time.) (Kim Roads)

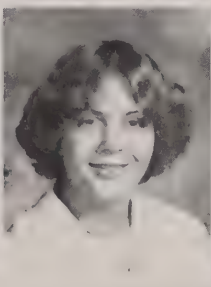

Getting to cut things up in biology! (Cliff Joslyn)

IT'S A JUNGLE OUT THERE

It looked so pitiful when I first saw it that my initial reaction was to reach out and comfort the poor, lost, lonely creature. But it shyed away, its sad dark eyes filled with fear. I thought of trying to help it find its way. But something stopped me. I knew that if I interfered now and didn't let it struggle and make it on its own, it would be helpless forever. Quietly I told myself that this was just nature's way of enforcing survival of the fittest. Slowly I turned away. After all, I thought, we all have to be freshman at one time or another.

FRESHMEN GO TO THE POLLS

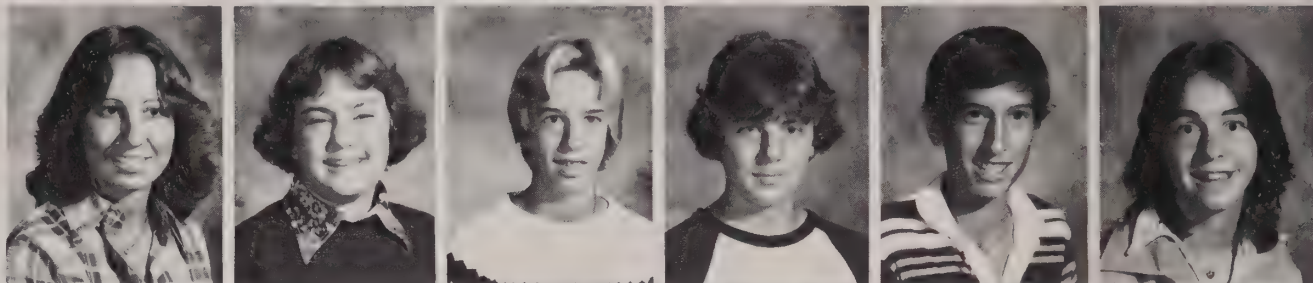

The last few weeks of September were hectic ones for the freshmen class. This was mainly due to the freshmen class elections. The candidates were busy adjusting to high school and found the campaign quite demanding. After composing a comprehensive Declaration of Intent, they needed to obtain twenty signatures from supporting students. Then came the big job of actual campaigning. This included making posters (which were invariably torn down by upperclassmen) and giving campaign speeches to the freshmen class. It all paid off for those who won, but even those who didn't gained invaluable experience for the years to come.

The freshmen mixer and the fundraising bake sale at K-mart, were among the many activities in which the Freshmen Class Advisory Council was involved. The council consisted of Lisa Hilk, freshmen class president and other interested freshmen. The students involved, though perhaps not always completely successful in their endeavors, undoubtedly learned a great deal from working on the council.

"GET TOGETHER"

Lisa Hilk, freshman class president; the Freshman Advisory Council and Miss Becky Gilmore planned and had a freshman 'get-together' party. The objective of the 'get-together' was, . . . to help the freshman get acquainted with one another." It was held after school in the cafeteria on December 13. The party was open to all freshmen and about seventy-five people showed up, including some upper-classmen. Thanks to the Student Government Association who rented their stereo equipment to the Freshmen Advisory Council, there was music and dancing. The party ended about an hour later and was considered a success by all its sponsors.

“I DON'T MIND BEING A FRESHMAN ...”

There seems to be a stereotyped opinion of the typical Herndon freshmen; mainly that they are small and rather dim. However, each class views itself in a unique way. We decided to find out just how the class of '82 feels about the class of '82. This is what they said:

It's fun. No one knows you're a freshman unless you tell them, It's nice to be out of Intermediate School. (Lauren McCadney)

I'd rather be a freshman than anything else. I don't mind when people say I act like a freshmen because I am one so why shouldn't I act like one? (Lisa Watts)

Being a freshman !
(Louis Feraca)

It's okay, but I'd rather be a senior and get it over with. (Paul Drabkowski)

It's not bad, but next year it will be even better, we'll get to pick on the class of '83! (Dan Harasty)

Editor's Note:

In your hands you are holding the product of many long hours of work. This work was done by a very special group of dedicated students, the Hornet staff. Like any other group activity, we had our problems, but all in all, we feel that this book is the best account of the Herndon High school of 1978-79 possible.

It would take more room than I have here to list all the people, who helped make this book possible. In fact, every student, teacher, and administrator contributed to this book by being at Herndon. I would especially like to thank Rex Foley, our publication consultant, for all the help he gave the Hornet (especially the Night before the last Deadline); and the Hornet staff (the people pictured on the preceeding 3 pages). After spending the last two years as Editor-in-chief of the Hornet, I feel a special closeness to this book and the staff. Through out this past year a lot of blood, sweat, and tears were spent by the staff and me personally. Even though the book seemed to be a lot of trouble at times, I feel the effort was well worth it. I hope that this book will help you recall your life at Herndon, the happiness, the sadness, the accomplishments, and most important the people of the Herndon High school of 1979.

Advisor's Comment:

I extend many thanks to the students, teacher sponsors, administrators, and coaches for their cooperation in making this book possible.

By representing the administration, the faculty and the student body, I say many thanks to the Hornet staff for a job well done.

We have had a lot of fun putting this book together for you and we know that as the years go by, the contents will become more and more precious to you. For that reason, the staff, especially the Editor-in-chief, Tom Woodford, has devoted many hours in bringing you one of the finest yearbooks in Fairfax County.

Again this year, I extend a heart-felt appreciation to Tom Woodford for his sincere devotion to the yearbook as well as to Herndon High School. The staff will never be the same without Pat Hofer, and Julia Sullivan, who have contributed much to the book.

As the year progressed many more changes took place. We adjusted to a new principal, Mr. Price, and the sub-school system. Mrs. Whithers went to a new job at Oakton and was replaced by Mrs. Nadamin. Northern Virginia experienced one of the biggest blizzards in over fifty years, we had a District Championship Girls' Basketball Team and Mr. Hutton's car was burned in the parking lot.

The school, though, was not the only thing that changed. All of us who comprise HHS changed. None of us are quite the person that we were when we entered the school in September. But we endured, and the school endured; all because of man's ability to change.
